Republicans Pick Tracy and Foster for Supreme Court

County Judge of Columbia and District Attorney of Sullivan Selected as Judicial Candidates in Third District—Leaders Reply to Democratic Efforts to Endorse Judge Smith.

County Judge John C. Tracy of Hudson, Columbia county, and District Attorney Sidney F. Foster of Sullivan county were nominated for justices of the Supreme court by the Republican judicial convention of the Third judicial district held at Albany on Monday. The district comprises Albany, Columbia, Greene, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Sullivan and Ulster counties. The nominations were made without opposition.

The convention was marked by a spirited reply to efforts of Democratic state leaders who sought to secure Republican endorsement of George H. Smith, of Monticello, appointed to the bench by Governor Smith as the successor of Justice Rosch, and who was renominated by the Democratic judicial convention.

Robert H. McCormic, legal adviser to the Republican organization of Albany county, denied, in seconding the nominations, that "there ever was an agreement of an endorsement of a Democratic nominee of the governor for supreme court justice."

"I cannot conceive who could speak for this convention on this question," he said. "I know there was no such agreement. There were two vacancies, one was filled by the appointment of a Republican; the other by the naming of a Democrat.

Albany Opposed Endorsement

"Certain overtures were made through the press that we endorse these two appointees of the governor. I want this convention to know, and the people of this district to know that the executive committee of the Albany county organization placed itself on record against any endorsement of any Democrat, and it voted unanimously against such endorsement. I do not believe it is the way to get good men on the bench. If there was any agreement why wasn't it carried out last Friday when the Democrats met?"

The convention was called to order by George W. Stedman, as chairman of the judiciary committee, shortly after 3 o'clock. On motion of Philip Elting, of Ulster, Clyde H. Proper, of Schoharie, was named as chairman of the convention. Borden H. Mills of Albany, was elected secretary on the nomination of George W. Greene, Albany county leader.

Nominating speeches were made by William A. Williams, Sullivan county, for Mr. Foster; and Assemblyman Henry M. James of Hudson for Judge Foster.

Judge Foster's Activities.

In his speech, Assemblyman James described the long public service of Judge Foster, a native of Hudson, and identified during his public life with Columbia county. Judge Foster was educated in the Hudson public schools, and studied law in the office of his grandfather, a former county judge of Columbia county. He was graduated from the Albany Law School, and entered public service as deputy county clerk in Columbia county.

"He served eleven years as district attorney," said Mr. James, "and was then elected county judge. He has submitted himself five times to the electors of the county, and each time has been successful."

Republicans to Hold Big Rally

Republican Club Plans for Big Time Thursday Evening in Pythian Hall—All Interested in Principles of Republican Party Invited to Attend.

A big Republican mass meeting and rally will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Republican Club in their rooms in Pythian Hall, Broadway and Thomas street. The usual meetings of the club had been discontinued during the summer months but now will be resumed. There will be several good speakers at the rally Thursday evening and everyone interested in the principles of the Republican party is invited to attend.

Judge Shufeldt, president of the Republican Club, stated that a committee was working on the program and that it would prove one of the most interesting rallies ever held by the club.

Mrs. J. C. Penney Fractures Neck.

Mrs. Caroline Autenreith Penney, wife of J. C. Penney, chain store owner, is in the White Plains Hospital suffering from a compression fracture of a neck vertebra received when she was thrown from a horse on the Penney estate at White Plains. Although Mrs. Penney is expected to be at the hospital for a month, relatives said her condition is not serious.

Hoover Gathering Material for His Coming Speeches

Tariff Will Be Discussed in Industrial New England—Business Conditions and International Trade, the Topic in New York City October 13.

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP).—Tariff is to form the keynote of Herbert Hoover's address in industrial New England the latter part of this month. He now is gathering the material for this as well as for the other speeches he is to make in the east and the west before his final appeal to the voters over the radio from his California home on Election Eve, November 5.

Business conditions and international trade will form themes in the New York city speech on the night of October 13, but the Republican presidential candidate had not yet definitely decided on the topic of his seventh major address to be delivered in some western city during his journey to Stanford University, where he will cast his ballot.

With a succession of speeches crowding upon him in a fairly limited space of time, Hoover is changing his policy about preparing them well in advance. His Elizabethton, Tenn., speech of next Saturday is being shortened and will not be ready for advance distribution until Thursday.

At the same time Hoover is making ready the text of the address which he is to deliver to the veterans at the Johnson City soldiers' home on the same day and this talk will be much longer than was at first expected it would be. It probably will deal with matters of veterans' relief and kindred subjects.

Confers on Campaign Details.

While work on these addresses is taking up much of the nominee's time he also is devoting considerable of it to details of the conduct of the campaign in the states which generally have been listed as doubtful and also to the situation in the southern states. On his engagement list today was C. Bascom Slemp, national committeeman for Virginia.

This state has been separated from those of the old South in which Horace A. Mann is generalissimo of the Republican forces and Slemp has been given a free hand to press the campaign for the Hoover-Curtiss ticket. Slemp is optimistic about the outlook there and particularly about the strength he claims has developed for the Republican candidate among the women.

Another Religious Incident Crops Up.

Undoubtedly the recent letter which was sent out over the signature of Mrs. Willie W. Caldwell, national committeewoman for Virginia, calling on the women to save the country from being "Romanized" will form one subject matter for discussion between Hoover and Slemp. Scarcely had Hoover finished repudiating that letter before another incident of the same kind cropped up in another southern state.

This was the action of Oliver D. Street, Republican national committeeman and state chairman for Alabama, in sending out a pamphlet entitled "Governor Smith's membership in the Catholic Church and its Proper Place in the Campaign." Hoover has taken no action respecting the circulation of this document as Chairman Work of the Republican national committee had sent a telegram of protest to Street before the matter was called to the attention of the candidate.

Stands Squarely on Statement.

On Hoover's behalf, however, it was stated at his headquarters that he stood squarely on his statement of last Saturday that he wanted no support on the basis of religion. The candidate has stated and reiterated that the religious question is not an issue in this campaign.

Dates Changed for Hoover's Speeches

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP).—Herbert Hoover will speak in Boston on October 15, and in New York city on October 22, instead of October 13 as originally planned.

The Boston speech will be delivered in Mechanics' Hall at 8 o'clock eastern standard time, while that at New York will be in Madison Square Garden at the same hour. Both speeches will be broadcast over a nationwide hook-up.

Besides these two addresses in the east Hoover probably will make another on October 28, at some place yet to be selected, before he leaves for California to vote on November 6.

The Republican Presidential candidate also will deliver two speeches next Saturday, one at Elizabethton, Tenn., and the other at the Soldiers' Home on the outskirts of Johnson City, Tenn.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Smead, Schenectady, a son, Clifford John, at City of Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, 136 Newkirk avenue, a daughter, Marie Frances, at City of Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Schuler, 375 Washington avenue, a daughter, Shirley Bertha.

Many Attractions For Radio Show

McNamee and Cross, Noted Announcers, to Be Present Two Evenings—Entertainment Program to Be Given Twice Each Evening.

With Graham McNamee and Milton J. Cross, two of radio's best known announcers scheduled to be present at the Kingston Electrical and Radio Show at the armory the last three days of this week, there is every assurance of good entertainment. McNamee will open the show on Thursday evening and be in charge of the program which will include the South Sea Islanders.

The next evening the Dixie Jubilee Singers will be the feature attraction and on Saturday night Cross, WJZ announcer, will be present in conjunction with other special attractions.

During all three days of the show, which is being given under the auspices of the Radio Dealers' Association and the Electrical Service League of Kingston, the show will be open each afternoon from 1 o'clock on. The entertainment program will be put on twice each evening at 7:30 and again at 9 o'clock. On account of the entertainment program each evening the admission charge in the evening will be slightly higher than in the afternoon. With some of radio's best known entertainers scheduled to appear the admission charged will be insignificant. The entertainment program alone will be worth more than the price of admission. Then, too, there will be over 50 exhibits of radio and electrical equipment and devices which will interest every radio fan as well as every housewife. All of the latest appliances for the home will be displayed.

Elmendorf Street House on Fire

Two Family House at 120 Elmendorf Street, Badly Damaged by Fire Shortly After 11 o'clock Monday Evening.

Fire which broke out in the rear of the attic of the two story frame dwelling house at 120 Elmendorf street did considerable damage Monday evening before the fire was finally brought under control. The house was owned by Miss Edith Holmes of 11 West Chester street. It was occupied on the first floor by George W. Johnson and on the second floor by Irwin E. Thomas. Mr. Thomas's loss is said to be covered by insurance. Mr. Johnson carried no insurance on his furnishing.

The fire was first discovered shortly after 11 o'clock and a still alarm was sent in to the Central Fire Station, which was followed shortly afterward by an alarm from Box 66, which rang while the fire department was on its way to the fire.

The firemen in order to save the furnishings as far as possible covered them with the salvage covers. The fire, which had started in the attic over the second floor bathroom, worked its way through to the roof, which was badly damaged, and began to work its way down into the interior of the house when the firemen arrived. In order to bring the fire under control it was necessary to pour large volumes of water into the house, and the most damage to the interior is that caused by water. The roof was also badly damaged by the fire.

BORAH CRITICISES SMITH FOR REFERENCES TO HOOVER.

Minneapolis, Oct. 2 (AP).—Development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, favored by Herbert Hoover, is one of the most important propositions before the agricultural northwest, in the opinion of Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho.

Borah, in an address at the Municipal Auditorium last night, pictured Hoover, the Republican presidential candidate, as champion of the farmer and stressed the value of the proposed waterway to the farmer.

Hoover's work as food administrator during the war was praised by the Idaho senator, who said that any statement that Hoover was not then working in the interests of the farmers was a "gross libel".

Borah criticised Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential candidate, for his references to Hoover and the oil scandals in a recent speech at Helena, Mont. To attack Hoover for acts of a fellow cabinet member was no more justified than to blame Smith for the "millions grafted by Tammany Hall", said Borah.

Hoover is definitely opposed to repeal of the prohibition act, which Borah charged Tammany Hall, rather than the Democratic party, wanted "nullified".

OTTINGER HEADQUARTERS OPENED IN HOTEL ASTOR

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—Campaign headquarters of Albert Ottinger, Republican candidate for governor, were opened today in the Hotel Astor.

The candidate himself was not present, his duties as state attorney-general having obliged him to take a midnight train to Albany. The name of Ottinger's campaign manager was in doubt pending his return late today as was the matter of whether he will also have a campaign headquarters upstate.

Over 400 Cases On Calendar of Supreme Court

Judge Smith Presides and Charles Dean Is Foreman of Grand Jury—Cases Announced as Settled.

The October term of the Supreme court was convened Monday afternoon at the court house with Judge George H. Smith presiding. There is a calendar of over 400 cases to be disposed of. Of these cases there are a number which come under the rule of the court relative to cases which have been at issue for two years and therefore come under the strike-off order. An order was entered Monday afternoon by Judge Smith returnable next Monday at the opening of court in regard to these cases. Unless the cases are disposed of at this term of court or counsel is able to give a good reason why the cases should be continued they will be stricken from the calendar next Monday when the strike-off order is returnable.

Charles Dean of Kingston was selected as foreman of the grand jury and Jacob H. Barley of Marbletown was selected as assistant foreman. Of the twenty-four grand jurors drawn one James Kenny of Rosendale is dead and four others were excused by the court. Those excused were Charles H. Jansen, Gustave Martin, Graham Parish and Orson Todd.

The jurors of the trial panel were excused and one was not present on account of illness while a second was not served as he was out of the county. Those excused were: Elmer Caswell, Stephen Cordes, Joseph Distel, Davis DuBois, Ezra Empt, LeGrand Haviland, John W. Lent, Fred Randager, Michael Ruechel and John A. Stewart. Richard W. Hefferan was out of the county and Jerome Pratt is ill. Other excuses will be acted on later by the court.

An action for goods sold and delivered brought by Paul Rosenbaum against Charles Aobate was announced as dismissed on merits by A. W. Lent, counsel for defendant.

A day calendar was made up for Tuesday as follows: No. 368, 171, 309½, 310 and 360.

Cases Settled.

Among the cases announced as settled were:

Maynard N. DeWitt against Celia Weiss, action on note.

Junius H. Stone Corp. against Ulster County Ice & Coal Corporation and others, action to foreclose mechanic's lien.

Edward Willner and another against Joseph McNamee and another.

Henrietta Kelly, Edith Kelly and Henry Kelly against Charles Nifenecker and Charles Nifenecker, negligence actions.

Amelia Kaercher against Daniel Perelman and another, mortgage foreclosure.

Milton Arlinsky, etc., against Joseph R. Bennett and C. Raymond Everett, negligence.

Joseph F. Sweeney as administrator, etc., of Robert J. Sweeney, deceased, against Richard Dunn, negligence.

Fred L. Brink against Frank Ferraro, negligence.

Constant Golinsky against Selko Electric Company and another, negligence.

Clarence H. Myers against Louis Vigden, negligence.

Henry Weezenaor, Jr., against Scandinavian Seed Company, Inc., goods sold and delivered.

Frank Kniffin against Peter Marton, Inc., work, labor and services.

CURTIS FORCED TO CANCEL ENGAGEMENTS,

Chicago, Oct. 2 (AP).—Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, returned here today from a campaign tour of the west and cancelled all engagements for the remainder of the week in order to give his weakened voice a rest.

Illinois Republican leaders, headed by Senator Deneen, met the senator upon his arrival. They had a list of requests for the nominee but he announced that because of the condition of his throat he had been ordered to make no speeches this week.

However, Curtis did agree to keep an engagement for tomorrow night at a meeting of the Swedish American Hoover-Curtis Club. He explained he would be able to speak for only a few minutes.

The Republican vice presidential nominee gave party leaders a glowing report on conditions in the west where he campaigned. He reported all his meetings were "enthusiastically received". He declared "the west is safe."

"THE ETERNAL FLAME" DID NOT STIR AUDIENCE.

London, Oct. 2 (AP).—"The Eternal Flame", a new play in which was depicted the resurrection of the unknown warrior from his grave in Westminster Abbey, was presented last night in Leamington to a crowded audience none of whom seemed to be offended at the resurrection scene. Organizations of former service men had protested against this scene but the play was licensed by the censor.

Many newspaper critics today said the piece was very boring and that the audience yawned considerably.

C. of C. Directors To Carry on Work

Will Await Election of New Board Before Electing Secretary—Meantime Directors and Efficient Assistant Secretary Will Attend to All Matters.

The Chamber of Commerce will be without a regular secretary until January 1, when new officers and a new board of directors will be elected. The present board of directors decided not to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Louis S. Coe, who now is in New York city, owing to the short time until the beginning of the new year.

Each month from now until January three of the Chamber of Commerce directors will have charge of industrial inquiries, formerly handled by the secretary. James A. Dwyer, vice president; Postmaster Walter P. Crane and Lewis Brown are now acting. It is felt that with the help of Miss Mildred Messinger, who has acted as assistant secretary for the past nine years and is familiar with every detail of the organization, the directors appointed will finish the year satisfactorily to the business interests of the city.

The help and suggestions of every member for the betterment of Kingston will be gladly accepted by the Chamber of Commerce. The board of directors sincerely hope all will remain faithful to the organization by lending moral support and helping to increase the membership. It is the desire of the heads of the chamber to stress the fact that the city as a whole, not any particular section, is to be served.

Ulster County C. E. Convention

Will Be Held Saturday, October 20, in New Church Hall of the Port Ewen Reformed Church—Interesting Program Arranged.

The annual convention of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union will be held on Saturday, October 20, in the new church hall of the Port Ewen Reformed Church, and an interesting program has been arranged.

The convention opens at 9:30 o'clock that morning with a song service in charge of Karl Schwartzwaelder, who will also sing a solo at the evening service.

Among the speakers who will address the convention will be the Rev. Dr. George H. Scofield of Goshen, first vice president of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union; the Rev. E. D. Miner of New Paltz; J. W. Frankel of Saugerties; Mrs. J. J. Donovan of Highland; Miss Hilda Applebaum of New York city, junior superintendent of the state union, and the Rev. Henry F. Decker of Hurley.

There will be three sessions of the convention, morning, afternoon and evening. A number of important conferences will be held at which time various lines of work will be considered and plans discussed for the enlargement of Christian Endeavor activities in Ulster county.

It is expected that every Christian Endeavor Society in Ulster county will be represented by large delegations at the convention.

OUTBURST OF ACTIVITY BY FREAK RELIGIONISTS

Religious and uplift activities of certain kinds are being pursued most zealously in Kingston at present. Sunday, during the hours of morning service in the churches, a young man was going about ringing door bells and endeavoring to sell books written by Judge Russell, a shining light in one of the freak sects.

Another phase of religious and reform activity, probably to gain material for sensational disclosures, has been the appearance of some kind of an evangelist at various garages, seeking to purchase beer. This person was accompanied by another, probably as a witness. He carried a tin "growler", gave an excellent imitation of a man who was "spifflicated" and tried to purchase beer or hooch.

Still another, a sad and solemn man, goes about ringing door bells and asking if he may enter and confer as to the state of the soul of whoever answers the bell. He is said to be a Mormon.

An uplifter book agent is also in town with a long and specious appeal to buy books in order to aid a charity.

Kingston has several genuinely needy institutions, including the A. M. E. Zion Church and the Salvation Army, that require all the contributions they can get.

GRAF ZEPPLIN ON LAST LONG TEST TRIP

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 2 (AP).—Graf Zeppelin, Dr. Hugo Eckener's new dirigible, started at 7 a. m., today on a thirty-six hour flight which was intended to be the last long distance experiment before the airship leaves for America.

The passengers and crew numbered 70. Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, U. S. Navy, was again aboard.

Although it was announced when the airship started that it would fly to Berlin, bad weather forced the dirigible to change its course and head for the North Sea. It was likely that it would fly toward London.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Named For Governor

Democrats Name State Ticket Including Judge Leonard C. Crouch, Native of Kingston, For Court of Appeals Judge—Nominations Made By Acclamation—Roosevelt In South For His Health.

"Cannot Consent" Was Roosevelt's Message to A. P.

Warm Springs, Ga., Oct. 2 (AP).—Franklin D. Roosevelt today accepted the Democratic nomination for governor of New York.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 2 (AP).—Franklin D. Roosevelt in response to a request from the Associated Press dispatched prior to his nomination for governor at Rochester, telegraphed the following message from his home at Warm Springs, Ga.:

"Told Governor my position remains unchanged. Cannot consent to be a candidate in fairness to my family and myself."

The Associated Press telegraphed Roosevelt early this morning and his reply was received shortly before noon, central time.

A few minutes later a second message was received from him saying: "Sincerely hope convention in Rochester will understand and respect my oft-repeated statements."

Roosevelt's Georgia home is 70 miles southwest of Atlanta in Meriwether county. He was not accessible by telephone this morning. The nearest telephone is in a hotel a half mile from the Roosevelt cottage and inquirers were told that Roosevelt would not be in today.

Gave Reasons for Not Running.

When Roosevelt was first approached by New York Democratic leaders last week he told them he had two reasons for not accepting the nomination: First, that he felt he could do Governor Smith more good in the campaign by speaking in cities where he had previous acquaintance because of his service in the Wilson cabinet, and second, that the state of his health would not permit.

Roosevelt came to Georgia two weeks ago to consult doctors of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

They told him that if he would spend two more winters in Georgia it would be possible to remove the brace from his left leg, placed there when he was stricken with infantile paralysis in 1921.

Roosevelt said that if he were elected, his presence would be required in Albany for the legislative sessions during the winter months the doctors advised him he must spend in Georgia. He said since he is only 46 years old, he feels that his first duty is to his family and that duty is to get well.

"He Will Run," Says Smith.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP).—Governor Smith, on being informed of the Associated Press dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., stating that Franklin D. Roosevelt had not consented to accept the Democratic nomination for governor of New York, said:

"The convention had the consent of Mr. Roosevelt to do what it did. It nominated him and he will run."

STATE TROOPER INJURED WHEN CAR LEFT HIGHWAY

Corporal Joseph Miller of the State Troopers was injured Sunday night when his automobile left the state road between Kerhonkson and Accord and brought up against a telephone pole. Corporal Miller had left Ellenville about 11 o'clock Sunday evening and was driving toward Kingston when he was suddenly blinded by the lights on an approaching car. The injured man was taken to the Veterans' Memorial Hospital in Ellenville where his condition is good. He sustained head injuries and also an injury to his eye, and was bruised about the body. He was conscious when admitted to the hospital and has remained conscious ever since. His automobile was badly wrecked.

GOV. MOORE RETURNS TO SULU PROVINCE

Carl M. Moore, who has been visiting his brother, J. Frank Moore, at 407 Washington avenue, this city, left today on his return trip to the Philippine Islands. He will visit Hartford, Conn., Boston, New York and Washington and then proceed to Berkeley, Cal., before sailing. Mr. Moore has been active in Philippine affairs along educational lines as teacher and as director of schools for more than twenty-five years. He is on a vacation leave to the United States, being at the present governor of the Sulu Province, P. I., by appointment of General Wood by reason of his long service.

Rochester, Oct. 2 (AP).—Franklin D. Roosevelt of Hyde Park, former assistant secretary of the navy, was nominated by acclamation for governor of New York by the Democratic state convention today.

Great enthusiasm greeted the presentation of Mr. Roosevelt's name to the convention by Mayor James J. Walker of New York, who made the nominating speech. Seconding speeches were made by former Lieutenant Governor George R. Lunn, of Schenectady, an aspirant for the nomination, and Mrs. Daniel O'Day of Rye, vice chairman of the state committee.

The mayor said Mr. Roosevelt had many of the same characteristics as Governor Smith and would give the state an honest, fearless administration. There was another demonstration at the conclusion of the mayor's speech. George R. Lunn of Schenectady, former lieutenant governor, seconded the nomination.

Mr. Lunn, who was a potential gubernatorial candidate, paid a graceful tribute to Governor Smith before praising the "devotion, capacity and ability of Mr. Roosevelt."

Lehman for Lieutenant Governor.

Colonel Herbert H. Lehman, New York city banker, was nominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation. The nominating speech was made by Representative Meyer Jacobstein of Rochester. Joseph V. McKee, president of the board of aldermen of New York, seconded the nomination.

Tremaine Renominated.

Morris Tremaine of Buffalo was renominated for comptroller by acclamation. Warnick J. Kernan of Oneida made the nominating speech and was seconded by John J. Love of Erie county.

Conway for Attorney General.

Albert Conway of Brooklyn was nominated for attorney general by acclamation. Arthur S. Somers of Kings county placed his name before the convention. The seconding speech was made by Senator William T. Byrne of Albany.

Crouch for Court of Appeals.

Leonard C. Crouch of Syracuse was unanimously nominated for judge of the court of appeals. The nominating speech was made by Harlan W. Rippey, Monroe county leader. The seconding speech was by Harriet May Mills of Onondaga county.

Copeland Renominated.

Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York was renominated by acclamation. The nominating speech was by former State Senator Abraham Kaplan, president of the Civil Service Commission of New York city. The seconding speech was made by Katherine M. Aiken of Ogdensburg.

Following the adoption of routine resolutions the convention adjourned sine die.

The convention was called to order at 11:05 a. m.

The delegates were tardy in arriving and the convention was more than an hour and a half late in getting underway.

Mayor James J. Walker of New York was among the early arrivals and the delegates gave him a cheer. He was surrounded by handshakers.

Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, the governor's wife, arrived on the platform, accompanied by members of her family, shortly before the convention opened and was warmly greeted. Nominations were then called for Governor.

Decision of the party leaders to name the former assistant secretary of the navy, candidate for the vice presidency in 1920, was made early today after the third of a series of conferences with Governor Smith. The delegates had been holding off on the man to head the ticket, in deference to the Governor's wishes. While he had frequently said the convention would be an open one and that he would not pick the candidate, the leaders did not feel like going ahead until they had consulted with him.

Roosevelt in South for Health.

Selection of Mr. Roosevelt came somewhat as a surprise, for only yesterday, shortly after he had arrived here from his western tour, Governor Smith made public a telegram from him saying that he could not run on account of his health. Mr. Roosevelt had been urged many times to enter the race but each time he refused. He has been suffering from infantile paralysis for several years and is at present in the south for the benefit of his health.

There has been a warm attachment between the governor of Mr. Roosevelt for many years. It was Roosevelt who nominated Smith for the presidency at Madison Square Garden and at Houston.

The announcement of his selection was made about one o'clock this morning. The governor, after his

HOW TO SELECT APPLES FOR WINTER USE.

A little forethought about the kind of apples one puts in the cellar for winter use may mean a big difference in satisfaction during the winter months, declares Dr. U. P. Hedrick, horticulturist at the Experiment Station at Geneva, who advocates buying apples on the basis of their season and the use to which they are best adapted, rather than to ask for "just apples". There are different apples for different purposes just as there are different kinds of meat and other commodities, says this authority.

"If you desire a fancy eating apple for use in November and December, ask for McIntosh," says Dr. Hedrick. "This is perhaps the finest dessert apple grown, being juicy, crisp, white-fleshed, and of pleasing aroma. Then, the Rhode Island Greening, is about the best apple both for eating and cooking during December, January and part of February, while the ever-popular Baldwin is in season from January to March. The Northern Spy, although often more expensive than other varieties, is usually in strong demand and is rated as perfect for eating or for cooking.

"Other good varieties for winter use are Delicious, Jonathan, Yellow Newtown, and for extremely late in the season, Rome Beauty.

"Using the variety best suited for a given purpose, such as eating out of hand or for pie or other cooking purposes, is much more satisfactory than buying 'just apples'. Also, it is worth while to keep in mind the season of the year when the apples will be wanted, for varieties vary so widely in their season."

A dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Company, payable October 20 to stockholders of record on October 10, was declared here today by directors of the company. The board also declared the 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend on the company's seven per cent preferred stock, payable November 1 to stockholders of record on October 20.

Deliveries of Studebaker commercial cars during the first eight months of this year showed a 67 per cent increase over deliveries made during the corresponding period of 1927. One of the most popular of the new Studebaker models introduced this summer is the Dictator Royal Victoria for four. This model has won wide-spread favor with drivers who like the smartness and intimacy of a close coupled enclosed car.

Keeping pace with the most insistent demand in its history, the Chevrolet Motor Company has delivered more than one million cars into the hands of owners since the introduction of the popular "Bigger and Better" model last January 1st. This sensational achievement of delivering one million cars in nine months is without a parallel in the history of the manufacture of gear-shift cars and is seen as a tribute to the manufacturing ability and far-sightedness of the company.

Keeping pace with the developments of the modern age, the Stutz Motor Car Company announces that all Stutz cars, when the purchaser desires it, will be equipped with a six tube radio set. This is the first time in the history of the industry that a motor car manufacturer has offered a radio-equipped car as standard production. While all models will soon be available with the radio equipment, the first announcement pertains to the Stutz five-passenger sedans and broughams which are so equipped, and now ready for delivery. The radio set adopted by Stutz has been thoroughly tested for more than two years. Neither the operation of the generator nor the distributor affects in any way the reception of this specially designed automobile receiving set.

Radio Show Booths All Sold

Demand For More Cannot be Filled—Show Will Open Promptly at 1 o'clock on Thursday Afternoon With Everything in Place.

The committee in charge of Kingston's first electrical and radio show met at the sporting goods store of Charles A. Warren Monday night for the purpose of alloting booths.

When final reports had been made it was found that every available foot of booth space had been sold, and the committee was forced to turn down several applications for booths as there was no more room available in the show.

A solid carload of booths arrived Monday from the G. A. Trahan Company who have the decorating of the armory and booth arrangements in charge. The work of erecting these booths started early this morning and all exhibitors are assured that they will be able to move in their displays Wednesday morning early. This will make it possible for exhibitors to complete their booth arrangements early and will be an assurance that the show will open promptly on Thursday, October 4, at 1 o'clock as announced.

Boy Killed by Auto at Catskill

James, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mischetelli, was instantly killed in the yard surrounding his home on Main street, Catskill, Monday, when a touring car driven by George Groben of Selkirk crushed his little body between it and the house.

It was said Groben stated the brakes of his car failed to work as he drove down Thomson street and that he drove into the yard rather than make a turn into Main street. At the time he did not see the child on its kiddy car.

Mrs. Roosevelt Was Told Husband Yielded to Appeal

Boarded Train for New York After Being Told Her Husband Was to Be Democratic Nominee — "His Own Problem," She Told Leaders

Convention Hall, Rochester, Oct. 2 (AP).—After midnight last night, just about the time when Governor Smith was saying to the Democratic leaders of New York state, "I am very happy to tell you that Frank Roosevelt will run for governor," a tall, grave-faced woman slipped quietly out of the crowded lobby of the Syracuse Hotel and boarded a train for New York.

She was Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and she knew when she left Rochester that her husband was to be the Democratic nominee for governor.

All day long Mrs. Roosevelt had been in conference with the leaders, one after another, quiet always, unruffled, probably the calmest person in all that crowded hotel. To one after another of the leaders she said:

"I feel that this is Mr. Roosevelt's own problem. I am not trying to influence him, either way."

Shortly before he went over to the convention hall to make his speech, it was learned today, the governor reached Mr. Roosevelt in Georgia by long-distance telephone.

Mr. Roosevelt yielded to the Governor's appeal, Mrs. Roosevelt was told. With a quiet smile she slipped away—back to her desk in New York. Most of the men leaders at the convention did not know she had gone. They had counted on her being here today—to be a figure in the demonstration in Convention Hall.

Leaders Make Promises.

Her husband's nomination now makes Mrs. Roosevelt one of the most important Democratic women in New York state. Because of her husband's frail physical condition, it was learned, leaders of the party have promised Mr. Roosevelt—and Mrs. Roosevelt, too—that he will have to make only four or five speeches in the whole campaign. And that means, it is said, that Mrs. Roosevelt will stump the state.

Mrs. Roosevelt already has one of the biggest jobs at Democratic National Headquarters in New York. She is in charge of women's activities for the whole country. And she does as thorough a job at it as her uncle, the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, ever did at anything he undertook.

Mrs. Roosevelt Works Until Midnight.

For months Mrs. Roosevelt has been arriving at her office at Democratic National Headquarters at 9 o'clock in the morning and staying almost always until 6 p. m. and sometimes until well on toward midnight. Always courteous, never showing the slightest sign of impatience, she sees nearly every person who wants to talk to her—and there are hundreds of them. It is said that she also dictates a personal answer to every letter she receives—about 150 a day.

Among the Democratic women of the state Mrs. Roosevelt is exceedingly popular. For the last four years she has shared with Mrs. Daniel O'Day, state vice chairman, the job of visiting once each year every county in the state. And all these trips, as well as trips she has made for the National Committee, Mrs. Roosevelt has made at here own expense, her associates say.

Paying Obligation, She Says.

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt regards the nomination of her husband as Democratic candidate for governor of New York as an opportunity for him to repay the confidence of old friends.

Roosevelt, who has been forced to use crutches for years, did not want the nomination which was given him at Rochester today, Mrs. Roosevelt said, adding, however, "in the end you have to do what your friends want you to. There comes to every man, if he is wanted, the feeling that there is almost an obligation to return the confidence shown to him."

Mrs. Roosevelt at Democratic national headquarters, where she is engaged as a member of the national advisory committee, said she hadn't talked with her husband today, but she indicated that family plans which provided for Roosevelt's staying in the south for his health, would have to be changed.

"You don't have to cross bridges until you come to them, however," she said.

speech before the convention last night, called the leaders into his suite at the Hotel Seneca for the third of a series of conferences during the day. After an hour and a half behind closed doors, M. William Bray of Utica, the new state chairman, came from the conference room and informed the waiting newspapermen of the action.

"There seems to be a unanimous demand from the delegates to this convention for Mr. Roosevelt," he said. He did not directly answer a question as to whether Mr. Roosevelt would consent to make the run, saying that this point would be cleared up at the convention.

Seeks $1,500 for Damages to Bus

Driver of Diamond "D" Bus Claims Driver of Auto was Negligent Causing Accident — Defendant Blames Bus Driver.

An action brought by John A. DuBois, president of the Diamond "D" Bus Lines, Inc., against Harry Buroojian and another was taken up for trial in Supreme court this morning. The action is brought to recover $1,500 from defendants for damages to the bus of the corporation which it is alleged was damaged in a collision on July 4 last at West Park.

Plaintiff claims he suffered damages by reason of defendant's negligence. Harvey Tompkins, driver of the bus, testified he was proceeding south on his 10 o'clock trip from Kingston on the morning of July 4. Just as his bus had left the viaduct over the West Shore tracks at West Park he claims a Graham-Paige car of defendants came up the road from the south and collided with the bus. He alleges that the car was to the left of the center line of the roadway and that his bus was well to the right of the center line of the road which is marked off at the point by a white center line.

The Graham-Paige car, according to the driver of the bus, struck the front of the bus and damaged it and then ran over to its right and came back and struck the bus again and then crashed into the left fence and carried away some posts which support the steel guard cable. His bus had left Kingston at 10 o'clock with nine passengers and he made but one stop at West Park and took on five people. The accident happened at 10:35.

When struck he claims his bus was three feet from the center line of the roadway. It is alleged the defendant's car was operated at an excessive rate of speed.

Defendant claims the bus was coming at a fast clip and that in passing the Paige car struck it and sideswiped it, causing the accident. The driver of the defendant's car claims it was the fault of the bus driver and asks damages for his car.

A. W. Lent appears for plaintiff and John F. Wadlin for defendants.

No additions were made to the day calendar.

Twenty-five extra jurors were summoned and were present at the opening of court.

COMMUNIST AGITATORS GET PRISON SENTENCES

Abo, Finland, Oct. 2 (AP).—Forty-five Communist agitators today were sentenced to from one to fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor. Those convicted included two Communist members of the diet, who were sentenced to 2½ years' imprisonment at hard labor and to the loss of their civil rights for five years after they leave prison.

The majority of the agitators were laborers who were accused of receiving their training as Communist agitators in Russia.

Navy Balloon Lands in Middletown.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP).—A navy balloon, carrying five men from the Lakehurst, N. J., station, landed in a field near New Hampton, three miles south of here, this morning. After a short time the balloon again took the air and landed on a farm eight miles away. Here the bag was deflated and preparations made for shipping it back to Lakehurst.

Judge Crouch Was Born in Kingston

Leonard Callender Crouch of Syracuse, who was nominated for the office of judge of the court of appeals at the Democratic state convention at Rochester, was born in Kingston, July 30, 1866, the son of the late Henry Gage and Almira L. Callender Crouch. Justice Crouch's father owned and edited the Kingston Argus, a weekly publication, which was printed in this city for many years and after his death became the Sunday Argus which finally was sold to the Kingston Leader.

Judge Crouch received his Ph. B. degree at Cornell University in 1889 and then spent one year at the College of Law at that school. He was married to Annie Laura Paine at Troy, Pa., October 8, 1895. Mr. and Mrs. Crouch have five children, Margaret Crouch, Helen Crouch Snyder, Henry, Paul and Hope Crouch.

Judge Crouch was admitted to the New York state bar in 1891 and practiced in Kingston for a year. He went to Syracuse in 1892 and practiced as a lawyer until 1912. He was then appointed justice of New York state Supreme court to fill a vacancy. In November, 1912, he was elected for the full term until 1927, when he was re-elected. He was appointed to the Appellate Division January 1, 1923.

Judge Crouch is a member of the American Bar Association, New York State Bar Association, Delta Upsilon, Masonic orders, Phi Beta Kappa, Democratic Clubs, Onondaga Golf and Country Club, Genesee Valley Club, Cornell Club.

PROBE FRATERNITY SYSTEM AND STUDENT'S DEATH.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP).—A complete investigation of the Greek Letter Fraternity System, with a view of possible abolishment, was ordered at the University of Texas today as a sequel to the death Sunday night of Nolie McElroy during his initiation into the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

The investigating faculty committee, which the Board of Regents last night asked President H. Y. Benedict to appoint at once, was instructed to also investigate thoroughly the circumstances leading up to McElroy's death, which has cast a pall over the Longhorn campus.

The popular 19 year old football player died in a hospital a few minutes after he had collapsed while crawling over a pair of electrically charged bed springs.

Former Federal Judge R. L. Batts of Austin, a member of the Board of Regents and author of the resolution which asked the faculty committee to determine if all "boarding" Greek letter organizations should be eliminated as rapidly as dormitories can be provided for students, vigorously criticised the fraternity system as now existing.

The judge is a fraternity man himself, as are all but two of the other members of the board.

The Regents indicated the McElroy case in itself did not necessarily furnish the basis for criticism of fraternities, but that it had served to bring out an undercurrent of sentiment in the board against them.

Street Explained Stand on Religion

Alabama Committeeman Stated in Objectionable Circular He Did Mean Religious Beliefs and Practices of Roman Catholic Church or Gov. Smith are Involved in Campaign.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 2 (AP).—Oliver D. Street, Republican national committeeman for Alabama, last night said he was author of a circular entitled "Governor Smith's membership in the Catholic Church and its proper place in the campaign."

Declaring he had received no communication from Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National committee, objecting to the circular, as stated in Washington dispatches, the Alabama committeeman said 200,000 had been distributed by mail and nearly that many were ready for the mails.

The circular was taken up for the most part by a letter Street had written to the Birmingham News declaring that Governor Smith's membership in the Catholic Church was "a very live and vital issue in the presidential campaign."

"But in saying this," the letter continued, "I do not mean that the religious beliefs and practices of the Roman Catholic Church or of Governor Smith are involved. So long as he and his church confine themselves to religious doctrines and practices, it is a matter of no concern to me what they believe or how they worship."

HOW TO SELECT APPLES FOR WINTER USE.

A little forethought about the kind of apples one puts in the cellar for winter use may mean a big difference in [illegible] during the winter months, declares Dr. U. P. Hedrick, horticulturist at the Experiment Station at Geneva, who advocates buying apples on the basis of their season and the use to which they are best adapted, rather than to ask for "just apples". There are different apples for different purposes just as there are different kinds of meat and other commodities, says this authority.

"If you desire a fancy eating apple for use in November and December, ask for McIntosh," says Dr. Hedrick. "This is perhaps the finest dessert apple grown, being juicy, crisp, white-fleshed, and of pleasing aroma. Then, the Rhode Island Greening, is about the best apple both for eating and cooking during December, January and part of February, while the ever-popular Baldwin is in season from January to March. The Northern Spy, although often more expensive than other varieties, is usually in strong demand and is rated as perfect for eating or for cooking.

"Other good varieties for winter use are Delicious, Jonathan, Yellow Newtown, and for extremely late in the season, Rome Beauty.

"Using the variety best suited for a given purpose, such as eating out of hand or for pie or other cooking purposes, is much more satisfactory than buying 'just apples'. Also, it is worth while to keep in mind the season of the year when the apples will be wanted, for varieties vary so widely in their season."

A dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Company, payable October 20 to stockholders of record on October 10, was declared here today by directors of the company. The board also declared the 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend on the company's seven per cent preferred stock, payable November 1 to stockholders of record on October 20.

Deliveries of Studebaker commercial cars during the first eight months of this year showed a 67 per cent increase over deliveries made during the corresponding period of 1927. One of the most popular of the new Studebaker models introduced this summer is the Dictator Royal Victoria for four. This model has won wide-spread favor with drivers who like the smartness and intimacy of a close coupled enclosed car.

Keeping pace with the most insistent demand in its history, the Chevrolet Motor Company has delivered more than one million cars into the hands of owners since the introduction of the popular "Bigger and Better" model last January 1st. This sensational achievement of delivering one million cars in nine months is without a parallel in the history of the manufcture of gear-shift cars and is seen as a tribute to the manufacturing ability and far-sightedness of the company.

Keeping pace with the developments of the modern age, the Stutz Motor Car Company announces that all Stutz cars, when the purchaser desires it, will be equipped with a six tube radio set. This is the first time in the history of the industry that a motor car manufacturer has offered a radio-equipped car as standard production. While all models will soon be available with the radio equipment, the first announcement pertains to the Stutz five-passenger sedans and broughams which are so equipped, and now ready for delivery. The radio set adopted by Stutz has been thoroughly tested for more than two years. Neither the operation of the generator nor the distributor affects in any way the reception of this specially designed automobile receiving set.

Radio Show Booths All Sold

Demand For More Cannot be Filled—Show Will Open Promptly at 1 o'clock on Thursday Afternoon With Everything in Place.

The committee in charge of Kingston's first electrical and radio show met at the sporting goods store of Charles A. Warren Monday night for the purpose of alloting booths.

When final reports had been made it was found that every available foot of booth space had been sold, and the committee was forced to turn down several applications for booths as there was no more room available in the show.

A solid carload of booths arrived Monday from the G. A. Trahan Company who have the decorating of the armory and booth arrangements in charge. The work of erecting these booths started early this morning and all exhibitors are assured that they will be able to move in their displays Wednesday morning early. This will make it possible for exhibitors to complete their booth arrangements early and will be an assurance that the show will open promptly on Thursday, October 4, at 1 o'clock as announced.

Boy Killed by Auto at Catskill

James, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mischetelli, was instantly killed in the yard surrounding his home on Main street, Catskill, Monday, when a touring car driven by George Groben of Selkirk crushed his little body between it and the house.

It was said Groben stated the brakes of his car failed to work as he drove down Thomson street and that he drove into the yard rather than make a turn into Main street. At the time he did not see the child on its kiddy car.

Mrs. Roosevelt Was Told Husband Yielded to Appeal

Boarded Train for New York After Being Told Her Husband Was to Be Democratic Nominee—"His Own Problem," She Told Leaders

Convention Hall, Rochester, Oct. 2 (AP).—After midnight last night, just about the time when Governor Smith was saying to the Democratic leaders of New York state, "I am very happy to tell you that Frank Roosevelt will run for governor," a tall, grave-faced woman slipped quietly out of the crowded lobby of the Syracuse Hotel and boarded a train for New York.

She was Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and she knew when she left Rochester that her husband was to be the Democratic nominee for governor.

All day long Mrs. Roosevelt had been in conference with the leaders, one after another, quiet always, unruffled, probably the calmest person in all that crowded hotel. To one after another of the leaders she said: "I feel that this is Mr. Roosevelt's own problem. I am not trying to influence him, either way."

Shortly before he went over to the convention hall to make his speech, it was learned today, the governor reached Mr. Roosevelt in Georgia by long-distance telephone.

Mr. Roosevelt yielded to the Governor's appeal, Mrs. Roosevelt was told. With a quiet smile she slipped away—back to her desk in New York. Most of the men leaders at the convention did not know she had gone. They had counted on her being here today—to be a figure in the demonstration in Convention Hall.

Leaders Make Promises.

Her husband's nomination now makes Mrs. Roosevelt one of the most important Democratic women in New York state. Because of her husband's frail physical condition, it was learned, leaders of the party have promised Mr. Roosevelt—and Mrs. Roosevelt, too—that he will have to make only four or five speeches in the whole campaign. And that means, it is said, that Mrs. Roosevelt will stump the state.

Mrs. Roosevelt already has one of the biggest jobs at Democratic National Headquarters in New York. She is in charge of women's activities for the whole country. And she does as thorough a job at it as her uncle, the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, ever did at anything he undertook.

Mrs. Roosevelt Works Until Midnight.

For months Mrs. Roosevelt has been arriving at her office at Democratic National Headquarters at 9 o'clock in the morning and staying almost always until 6 p. m. and sometimes until well on toward midnight. Always courteous, never showing the slightest sign of impatience, she sees nearly every person who wants to talk to her—and there are hundreds of them. It is said that she also dictates a personal answer to every letter she receives—about 150 a day.

Among the Democratic women of the state Mrs. Roosevelt is exceedingly popular. For the last four years she has shared with Mrs. Daniel O'Day, state vice chairman, the job of visiting once each year every county in the state. And all these trips, as well as trips she has made for the National Committee, Mrs. Roosevelt has made at here own expense, her associates say.

Paying Obligation, She Says.

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt regards the nomination of her husband as Democratic candidate for governor of New York as an opportunity for him to repay the confidence of old friends.

Roosevelt, who has been forced to use crutches for years, did not want the nomination which was given him at Rochester today, Mrs. Roosevelt said, adding, however, "in the end you have to do what your friends want you to. There comes to every man, if he is wanted, the feeling that there is almost an obligation to return the confidence shown to him."

Mrs. Roosevelt at Democratic national headquarters, where she is engaged as a member of the national advisory committee, said she hadn't talked with her husband today, but she indicated that family plans which provided for Roosevelt's staying in the south for his health, would have to be changed.

"You don't have to cross bridges until you come to them, however," she said.

speech before the convention last night, called the leaders into his suite at the Hotel Seneca for the third of a series of conferences during the day. After an hour and a half behind closed doors, M. William Bray of Utica, the new state chairman, came from the conference room and informed the waiting newspapermen of the action.

"There seems to be a unanimous demand from the delegates to this convention for Mr. Roosevelt," he said. He did not directly answer a question as to whether Mr. Roosevelt would consent to make the run, saying that this point would be cleared up at the convention.

Seeks $1,500 for Damages to Bus

Driver of Diamond "D" Bus Claims Driver of Auto was Negligent Causing Accident — Defendant Blames Bus Driver.

An action brought by John A. DuBois, president of the Diamond "D" Bus Lines, Inc., against Harry Buroojian and another was taken up for trial in Supreme court this morning. The action is brought to recover $1,500 from defendants for damages to the bus of the corporation which it is alleged was damaged in a collision on July 4 last at West Park.

Plaintiff claims he suffered damages by reason of defendant's negligence. Harvey Tompkins, driver of the bus, testified he was proceeding south on his 10 o'clock trip from Kingston on the morning of July 4. Just as his bus had left the viaduct over the West Shore tracks at West Park he claims a Graham-Paige car of defendants came up the road from the south and collided with the bus. He alleges that the car was to the left of the center line of the roadway and that his bus was well to the right of the center line of the road which is marked off at the point by a white center line.

The Graham-Paige car, according to the driver of the bus, struck the front of the bus and damaged it and then ran over to its right and came back and struck the bus again and then crashed into the left fence and carried away some posts which support the steel guard cable. His bus had left Kingston at 10 o'clock with nine passengers and he made but one stop at West Park and took on five people. The accident happened at 10:35.

When struck he claims his bus was three feet from the center line of the roadway. It is alleged the defendant's car was operated at an excessive rate of speed.

Defendant claims the bus was coming at a fast clip and that in passing the Paige car struck it and sideswiped it, causing the accident. The driver of the defendant's car claims it was the fault of the bus driver and asks damages for his car.

A. W. Lent appears for plaintiff and John F. Wadlin for defendants.

No additions were made to the day calendar.

Twenty-five extra jurors were summoned and were present at the opening of court.

COMMUNIST AGITATORS GET PRISON SENTENCES

Abo, Finland, Oct. 2 (AP).—Forty-five Communist agitators today were sentenced to from one to fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor. Those convicted included two Communist members of the diet, who were sentenced to 2½ years' imprisonment at hard labor and to the loss of their civil rights for five years after they leave prison.

The majority of the agitators were laborers who were accused of receiving their training as Communist agitators in Russia.

Navy Balloon Lands in Middletown.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP).—A navy balloon, carrying five men from the Lakehurst, N. J., station, landed in a field near New Hampton, three miles south of here, this morning. After a short time the balloon again took the air and landed on a farm eight miles away. Here the bag was deflated and preparations made for shipping it back to Lakehurst.

Gets Six Months' Sentence.

Henry Sullivan of Accord was sentenced to six months in the county jail Monday by Justice of the Peace Fred Simpson of the town of Rochester. Sullivan was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Block of Accord on a charge of making a public nuisance of himself and being drunk and disorderly.

Dog Did Not Bite Bacharach.

Abie Bacharach was attacked by a dog on East Union street on Monday which tore his trousers leg but did not inflict a wound, according to members of his family. It has been previously reported that the dog had bitten him.

Judge Crouch Was Born in Kingston

Leonard Callender Crouch of Syracuse, who was nominated for the office of judge of the court of appeals at the Democratic state convention at Rochester, was born in Kingston, July 30, 1866, the son of the late Henry Gage and Almira L. Callender Crouch. Justice Crouch's father owned and edited the Kingston Argus, a weekly publication, which was printed in this city for many years and after his death became the Sunday Argus which finally was sold to the Kingston Leader.

Judge Crouch received his Ph. D. degree at Cornell University in 1889 and then spent one year at the College of Law at that school. He was married to Annie Laura Paine at Troy, Pa., October 8, 1895. Mr. and Mrs. Crouch have five children, Margaret Crouch, Helen Crouch Snyder, Henry, Paul and Hope Crouch.

Judge Crouch was admitted to the New York state bar in 1891 and practiced in Kingston for a year. He went to Syracuse in 1893 and practiced as a lawyer until 1913. He was then appointed justice of New York state Supreme court to fill a vacancy. In November, 1913, he was elected for the full term until 1927, when he was re-elected. He was appointed to the Appellate Division January 1, 1923.

Judge Crouch is a member of the American Bar Association, New York State Bar Association, Delta Upsilon, Masonic orders, Phi Beta Kappa, Democratic Clubs, Onondaga Golf and Country Club, Genesee Valley Club, Cornell Club.

PROBE FRATERNITY SYSTEM AND STUDENT'S DEATH.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP).—A complete investigation of the Greek Letter Fraternity System, with a view of possible abolishment, was ordered at the University of Texas today as a sequel to the death Sunday night of Nolte McElroy during his initiation into the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

The investigating faculty committee, which the Board of Regents last night asked President H. Y. Benedict to appoint at once, was instructed to also investigate thoroughly the circumstances leading up to McElroy's death, which has cast a pall over the Longhorn campus.

The popular 19 year old football player died in a hospital a few minutes after he had collapsed while crawling over a pair of electrically charged bed springs.

Former Federal Judge R. L. Batts of Austin, a member of the Board of Regents and author of the resolution which asked the faculty committee to determine if all "boarding" Greek letter organizations should be eliminated as rapidly as dormitories can be provided for students, vigorously criticised the fraternity system as now existing.

The judge is a fraternity man himself, as are all but two of the other members of the board.

The Regents indicated the McElroy case in itself did not necessarily furnish the basis for criticism of fraternities, but that it had served to bring out an undercurrent of sentiment in the board against them.

Street Explained Stand on Religion

Alabama Committeeman Stated in Objectionable Circular He Did Mean Religious Beliefs and Practices of Roman Catholic Church or Gov. Smith are Involved in Campaign.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 2 (AP).—Oliver D. Street, Republican national committeeman for Alabama, last night said he was author of a circular entitled "Governor Smith's membership in the Catholic Church and its proper place in the campaign."

Declaring he had received no communication from Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National committee, objecting to the circular, as stated in Washington dispatches, the Alabama committeeman said 200,000 had been distributed by mail and nearly that many were ready for the mails.

The circular was taken up for the most part by a letter Street had written to the Birmingham News declaring that Governor Smith's membership in the Catholic Church was "a very live and vital issue in the presidential campaign."

"But in saying this," the letter continued, "I do not mean that the religious beliefs and practices of the Roman Catholic church or of Governor Smith are involved. So long as he and his church confine themselves to religious doctrines and practices, it is a matter of no concern to me what they believe or how they worship."

The Alabama committeeman then listed [illegible] of church and state, [illegible] opposition to religious liberty, freedom of speech, opposition to freedom of thought and [illegible] and opposition to freedom of the press as five [illegible] principles for which the Roman Catholic Church stands.

The News declined to publish the [illegible] on advice of counsel who [illegible] as reason, because [illegible] policy not to publish letters from subscribers which deal with the religious issue.

DEFEMINIZING A COLLEGE.

Oberlin College, one of the oldest educational institutions in the Middle West, is engaged in what an alumnus describes as "trying to take the curse off co-education." Its method may apply sooner or later to some of the other co-educational colleges in this country. Two years ago a group of he-men among the undergraduates got together and told the authorities that "there wasn't enough men's life on the campus," and something would have to be done to correct the impression that it was a woman's college. There was too much emphasis, they said, on co-education. The male students were doing too much "dating," for lack of other interesting activities. They must have "more recreation of the type that appeals to men only."

Exactly what that means need not be inquired into too closely, though in the main the masculine yearnings were doubtless harmless enough. At any rate, the college authorities have done something about it. There is to be a new dormitory system which "will copy many of the best features of the fraternity system (Oberlin has no fraternities) by having the men live in groups of from 30 to 60 students in small, well-equipped dormitories, to be run by the college."

This seems to be a good deal like the English system which has long prevailed in Oxford and Cambridge. It ought to work almost as well in American colleges, though it is hardly possible that American male students will ever rise to the lofty indifference toward "dates" shown by their English brethren. There is something superhuman about the studied way in which British students ignore the existence of the other sex and content themselves with their own social affairs.

THE INTELLIGENCE MENACE.

Walter B. Pitkin, author of a book called "The Twilight of the American Mind," is much concerned about the future of first-rate minds in this country. There are too many of them now, and still educators are bending their efforts to develop more. Before long there won't be enough to do to keep them all busy, and these best minds and their families will probably have to starve or take to begging. "The whole modern trend in industrialism is toward higher and more efficient organization," the author states, "in which the relative number of superior intelligences must steadily dwindle."

He explains carefully why there is little call for more than a handful of excellent minds at the top of the various professions and industries. He believes Henry Ford has proved that a worker must not have a mind above the requirements of his job. The ministry, the law, newspaper work, magazine writing, industry, and a whole lot of other fields of interest may seem attractive to the highly intelligent, but upon intimate experience it is revealed that there is room in each for only a little first-rate intelligence.

Apparently, in another generation or two, a good mind will be even more of a handicap than it is now. It certainly is a gloomy outlook. Yet there is hope. Why can't all these idle best minds sit down and write books about this and that, as Mr. Pitkin has done, and sell them to the lesser minds to read?

The W. C. T. U. in Oakland, Cal., is engaged in a new work of reform. The members go about crushing with their heels cigarette butts they find on the street. In Oakland, apparently, heels are bigger than cigarettes. The crushers reported more than 2,000 butts so treated in the last few weeks. The report was greeted with cheers, and the campaign continues. The idea is to mangle the stumps beyond recognition or further usefulness, so that children will not pick them up and smoke them. It is hard to believe that many of the children of Oakland, or any other American community, are given to such conduct. Nevertheless tramping on cigarette stumps is to be commended anywhere, because of the fire they may start, if for no other reason. There is no more fruitful source of conflagrations, in city or country.

The Japanese beetle is proving to be a real problem. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in an effort to destroy it. The Department of Agriculture has maintained a quarantine against it. Five different parasites have been imported to make war upon it. Yet the pest continues to thrive and its depredations are slowly spreading beyond the regions where it was first observed. This beetle is a little hard [illegible] insect that attacks grapes, plums, cherries, raspberries, corn, beans, beets, carrots, shade trees, golf courses and pastures. Its ultimate defeat no doubt will come from the fact that it is so indiscriminate in its tastes.

The city of Berlin, Germany, has a traffic problem, according to the chief engineer of that city's street railway system. But the parking of automobiles does not figure in it at all. "In Berlin, a city of 4,000,000," the engineer explains, "we have less than 80,000 automobiles." Berlin has much to look forward to. Life without its parking problem would be very tame for citizens in large American communities.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY

HEATING THE BLOOD

Perhaps you have seen the almost magical effects of heat upon some pains and aches in the body.

An athlete will come off the field sore in body, joints aching and stiff, and after a hot shower and rub feels that he could go on the field again for another sixty minutes. You have likely noticed the pitcher of a ball team. He is very careful to keep his pitching arm warm and wears a woolen sleeve when his side is at bat.

The Japanese in their war with Russia carried huge hogsheads which they filled with hot water, and every night after the toils and warfare of the day immersed themselves in this hot water. Thus by hurrying the circulation of the waste products were removed from the tired muscles, and the joints kept free from stiffness. They were fresh the next morning and ready for the work of the day.

Dr. F. Walinski, of Berlin, has been producing heat within the body by the use of hot packs and hot baths.

He first injected an ordinary salt solution into the veins. His idea was to keep the body—the blood—hot for a long period.

By the injection of the salt solution into the veins, thus preventing the heat escaping in the natural way by means of perspiration, the blood was maintained at "fever" heat.

By this method he maintained the body temperature at about 100 degrees F for over nine hours, at 104 degrees F for over four hours and at 105 degrees F for twenty minutes.

The cases, fourteen in number, all showed improvement except one. When it is remembered that some of these were cases of paralysis due to a hardening of parts of the spinal column, others of hardening of the ligaments about joints, you can readily see what a wonderful thing heat is to the system.

So don't let a little rise in temperature worry you. It is a sign of trouble in the system all right, but it shows that your system is responding by increasing heat.

Your doctor simply tries to keep the temperature within safe limits.

The public is cordially invited to attend all of these classes and it is sincerely hoped that a large gathering will be present on each occasion. The following topics will be discussed: October 2, "Tips Worth Trying"; October 16, "Virtues of the Electric Boiler"; November 6, "Sunday Dinner for the Family"; November 20, "What Shall I Have for Dessert"; December 4, "Making the Most of the Winter Fruits and Vegetables"; December 18, "Holiday Specialties".

When Edward Schoonmaker left New Paltz for a trip south he motored to Springfield, N. J., joining his daughter, Nellie, proceeded on to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, rode around the city, visited the capitol, public buildings, and monuments, and all places of interest; then on to Alexandria, Va., Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburgh, to Raleigh, N. C., through the southern lofty pines to Columbia, S. C., where they found the river Congaree had risen 20 feet doing considerable damage; thence on to Augusta, Ga., Waynesboro, Millen and Savannah. Next morning they were on their way to Jacksonville, Fla., thence down the east coast to St. Augustine, Dayton Beach, and then to Stuart, motoring on to Palm Beach and West Palm Beach. They reached Miami and visited Fort Lauderdale. After a five days' stay at Miami they went to Florida City. Up to this time they had covered 1,639 miles. At Everglade Beach they visited the beautiful parks and motored through the fine driveway. Then homeward bound. They arrived at Jacksonville, Lake City, Valdosta, Ga., next Cordele, Macon, on to Anderson, Greenville, across the scenic Blue Ridge and the Alleghany mountains. They ascended the height of 4,800 feet to Pulaski, stopping overnight, to Roanoke, Staunton, then crossing over the Natural Bridge on to Harrisburg to the Endless Caverns, Shenandoah Valley, to Newmarket over the Blue Ridge mountains to Luray, Va., Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Trenton to Springfield, N. J. While coming through the Shenandoah Valley, the party enjoyed the beautiful farming country, where thousands of sheep and hogs are out on pasture. Corn, sweet potatoes, apples, peaches grew in abundance. The trees were heavily loaded. Mr. Schoonmaker also stated it was a great sight to see all the different crops grown in the south. Cotton, tobacco, peanuts, sweet potatoes, watermelon and grape fruit. Mr. Schoonmaker says of all the places on all his trip, give him New Paltz. The party traveled over 4,000 miles, having very little tire or motor trouble and no accidents.

HERBERT HOOVER

A Reminiscent Biography
By WILL IRWIN

(Extract from the book published by The Century Co.)

VII. Through the Boxer Rebellion.

Afire with enthusiasm for his new job with the Chinese Bureau of Mines, Hoover returned from his first big work in Australia early in 1899 primarily to marry Lou Henry. But on the verge of marriage rumors of unsettled politics reached him. He felt uncertain about taking a bride to China. These scruples went the way of all lovers' doubts. Two days before sailing they determined to get married at once and go together.

The progressive Chinese who governed the Department of Mines knew what they wanted. First they must develop coal and iron. Hoover must go exploring. He traveled far into the provinces. Sometimes he crawled on canal boats. Sometimes he ambled on horses. Mrs. Hoover went on many of these expeditions. Hoover's explorations proved that the world's greatest coal deposits underlay northeastern China, but he found little iron or other minerals.

When winter locked the roads, the Hoovers moved into a house in Tientsin. They dined back and forth with the European residents or ran up to Peking to visit with the "diplomatic set". And Hoover became aware that the foundations of his job were crumbling away. Early in the next summer all China blew up. The Boxers, with "death to foreigners" on their banners, assassinated the German minister at Peking, drove the foreigners into the legation compounds. Bout Tientsin felt secure, for the Imperial Government had sent to guard them thirty thousand troops under instruction by foreign officers.

One afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hoover sat in their garden. Rifle bullets began splashing the walls. A dozen exhausted white men appeared. They broke appalling news. The Chinese army had suddenly gone Boxer! Thirty thousand troops, equipped with modern arms and artillery: behind them thirty thousand civilian Boxers in a state of blazing fanaticism—and to withstand them only fifteen hundred European soldiers!

To Hoover and his staff, the only engineers in the town, fell the pressing task of transforming the village into a fortress. Needing material, he broke into the warehouses, found sugar and rice in sacks, and of these substances he built his barricades. He also must look out for the water supply.

For three weeks the fighting was intense. Sometimes they had as many as two hundred freshly wounded a day. Mrs. Hoover raided general stores for cotton goods for dressings; when these supplies were gone she commandeered domestic sheets.

The powers were hurrying troops to relieve Tientsin and Peking. A mixed force of perhaps two thousand men arrived at the end of the third week. They found the settlement tired and crammed with wounded, but still fighting. In the van—balm for sore Yankee eyes—marched the olive brown of the United States marines.

In a compound opposite his house Hoover had quartered a thousand Chinese officials. Rated by their countrymen as friends of the Europeans, they had fled to Tientsin. Here Hoover got his first experience in food relief. Together with Dr. C. D. Tenny, a professor, he kept them alive with whatever odds and ends they could get until the siege was over. One day a messenger brought news that the provost, after some kind of rough court martial, had condemned several Chinese to be shot. By argument, by waving the American flag, by his personal pledge to see that they behaved, Hoover stopped the executions.

The Boxer war killed the Imperial Department of Mines and Hoover's job. He was packing up to return to California when one Detring, German financial agent for a large mining company, approached him. The bonds—held in England, Belgium and Germany—were in default. If the bondholders understood the situation they might get the company refinanced. Hoover, with Mrs. Hoover, went to Europe, bent the bondholders to Detring's idea, then passed on to California. There he prepared to start life anew.

But his destiny was always whimsical. In December, 1900, the reorganized Chinese company offered him a job as chief engineer. At Tong Shan, southeast of Tientsin, Hoover swung into another big job of reorganization. He drew on the United States for engineers, specialists in coal, harbors, railroads; coordinated the plan, started the work going. The property began to show big profits.

The Belgians, large holders of its securities, perceived this. Quietly they bought out various shareholders, secured control. One day a representative of the Belgians appeared and took charge. There followed a bitter quarrel between the different national interests. Hoover resigned in disgust. * * * *

Fourteen years later these very Belgians were pleading with our ambassador to have Hoover take charge of Belgian relief. They wanted Hoover, only Hoover!

MILTON.

Milton, Oct. 1.—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Needlecraft and Women's Missionary societies will be held at the home of Mrs. Gifford Hallock Wednesday afternoon, October 3, at 2:30 o'clock.

The Hudson River Fruit Exchange has been buying large quantities of grapes during the past week when the fruit growers began cutting Concords and have been paying 55c a basket. The Exchange has been moving 20,000 to 30,000 packages a night. The fruit has been shipped to New York city and the Jersey cities for the most part. Shipments have also been made by the Exchange to Newark and Paterson, N. J. Last Wednesday the first carlot shipment was made from Milton when two cars went out by freight to Philadelphia. The shipments were made by the Fruit Exchange.

The state convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held at Saratoga beginning October 3. Mrs. Edward Young and Mrs. M. H. Bell of Milton will attend. Mrs. Young will go as guest of honor sent by the Home Bureau.

Registration days will be held October 13 and 20. Irving Clark is chairman of the Milton board this year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, who are visiting in Denmark, are expected to return to America within a month. Mr. Scott, who is a noted artist, is busily engaged in transferring to canvas the beauty of wheat fields and the busy peasants. It is expected that these paintings will be shown at the Elverhoj Art Colony's exhibit which is held at Poughkeepsie every year in the middle of October.

Fruit growers in this section, who have picked their tomatoes and peaches and held them until the past week before putting them on the market, have obtained much better prices. Peaches taken from the storage last week sold at $3 and $3.50. Some of the fruit was put in the Milton cold storage plant and Westervelt Clarke's cooler. Green tomatoes sold in New York for a dollar or more a basket than they had been selling.

The Willow Tree road has been completed as far as it will be this year a short way beyond the William Rhodes bridge. Two carloads of asphalt were used representing an outlay of $1,500. The road is now as far as finished is in a finer condition than ever. The stone crusher and tools used will be moved to Bailey's Gap road where the highway will be finished which was left unfinished two years ago.

Many improvements have been made at the Willow Tree Tea House among which is a rustic pavillion to be used for dining and dancing.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Hurn are spending their vacation at Albany and other places of interest and expect to return October 7.

The annual Harvest Home Festival of the First Presbyterian Church will be held at the church Sunday morning, October 14, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Frank Malven of Poughkeepsie will have charge of the service.

The Central Hudson Steamboat Company has built a twenty by twelve foot landing station at Tucker's Corners for the convenience of their patrons the fruit shippers and growers. The building is near the Harry Gould farm near the barn. The fruit growers can now leave their loads of fruit any time with no danger of its getting wet. Two loads are drawn each day to the boat by the Bunker Express Service to New York via Central Hudson Steamboat Co. Percy V. Bunker, proprietor of this express service is field superintendent of the steamboat company.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Haworth have returned to New York after having spent a few weeks at the Conklin bungalow. The Rev. Mr. Haworth has been supplying the pulpit at the Friends Church during the summer.

Last Tuesday evening, Edgar M. Clarke, Jr., was given a surprise party in honor of his birthday.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, Oct. 1.—Mrs. I. Barringer and son, Alfred, were in Kingston on Sunday to consult Dr. Bush.

R. Allen and wife and baby, Edith, spent Sunday at East Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Coddington of Accord called on Mrs. W. S. Moore on Sunday.

F. N. Davis of Mohonk Lake spent Sunday at his home.

The date of the supper to be held in the M. E. Hall is October 10. Mr. Tinney and friends of Port Ewen will give an entertainment. Mr. Tinney will give something new and very interesting. He is a real Scotchman. He will dress in a Scotch costume. He also has a song for the children. He is a very able actor as he is familiar with giving entertainments of this kind. A hot chicken supper will be served immediately after the entertainment and all the goodies that go to make up a good supper. Proceeds for benefit of the church.

Miss B. Merrill spent Sunday with friends in West Shokan.

Mrs. E. Relf and daughter, Mabel, also Judd Addis and wife of Poughkeepsie, called on their cousin, Mrs. M. J. Beesmer, on Sunday.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, Oct. 1.—The M. E. Ladies' Aid Society will hold its annual banquet and election of officers in the Ashokan M. E. Church hall on Thursday, October 4. All members are requested to meet at 9:30 a. m. to prepare dinner to be served promptly at 12 o'clock to a party of forty people from Lake Katrine. Following this members will be served with dinner. At 2 o'clock the regular business meeting and election of officers will be held.

A meeting of the M. E. board of trustees will be held at the parsonage Friday night, October 5, at 7 o'clock. Choir rehearsal will follow.

Adult Bible class will be held in the lecture room of the M. E. Church on Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. E. Temple of Pine Hill spent last Monday with her cousin, Mrs. E. Bogart.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Smith entertained relatives and friends from Schenectady over the week end.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Oct. 1.—The Ladies' Aid Society will meet in the Sunday school room Thursday, October 4, at 2 p. m. There will be quilting to be done and important business to transact.

5 Cities Each Have More Than Million

New York Leads in Census Bureau Estimate — Manhattan Borough Loses 200,000—Estimate Gives 262 Cities Having Over 30,000 Population.

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Five American metropolitan centers, headed by New York with 6,917,500 persons, were credited with more than a million residents in the estimate of city populations reported today by the census bureau. The estimate was made as of July 1, 1928.

Chicago was credited with 3,157,400; Philadelphia with 2,064,000; Detroit with 1,378,900; and Cleveland with 1,010,300.

A growth in population was indicated for nearly every one of the cities in the 30,000 population class reported, though one of the most famous city centers, Manhattan borough in New York city, was actually estimated to have lost 200,000 people between 1925 and 1928. The state enumeration was made in 1925.

The census bureau explained that its 1928 estimates were based in part on calculations of population growth rates indicated by the 1920 federal census, by the results of intervening state census returns, and by studies of local conditions. Notwithstanding, in the case of a few cities the bureau refused to make any 1928 estimate because of annexation, or because of "exceptional conditions of growth," or because of indicated population loss.

Cities Exceeding Half Million.

After the leading five cities, the estimates showed a large group of American cities possessing more than a half million people, the list including St. Louis, 848,100; Baltimore, 830,400; Boston, 799,200; Pittsburgh, 673,800; San Francisco, 585,300; Buffalo, 555,800; Washington, D. C., 552,000; and Milwaukee, 544,200. No estimate was given for Los Angeles, which in 1920 had a population of 576,673.

In all, the 1928 report listed 262 American cities having more than 30,000 population in 1920; and for most of them gave the comparative estimate of their total in 1928. In the case of states such as New York, Iowa, Florida, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which conducted a state census in 1925, the 1925 figures were used instead of the 1920.

New York State Estimates.

The estimates for New York state cities follow:

Albany, 120,400; Amsterdam, 36,200; Auburn, no estimate; Binghamton, 74,800; Buffalo, 555,800; Elmira, 50,000; Jamestown, 46,000; Mount Vernon, 54,700; New Rochelle, 48,800; New York, 6,917,500; Bronx Borough, 951,000; Brooklyn Borough, 2,308,500; Manhattan Borough, 1,752,000; Queens Borough, 854,400; Richmond Borough, 150,700; Newburgh, 30,400; Niagara Falls, 68,300; Poughkeepsie, 39,100; Rochester, 328,200; Schenectady, 93,000; Syracuse, 199,300; Troy, 72,300; Utica, 104,200; Watertown, 33,700; Yonkers, 121,300.

St. James Turkey Supper.

This year the ladies of St. James M. E. Church have arranged to serve their annual turkey dinner, which will be on October 17, in a manner to increase the comfort of their guests. There will be no booths in the basement where the supper will be served, as the fair which always accompanies the supper will be held in the parlors. This will obviate the standing in line of those attending the dinner as there will be ample room to serve all in the basement as now planned by the Ladies' Aid Society.

Harris Will Not Pilot Senators

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—"Bucky" Harris, for five years manager of the Washington Senators, will not pilot the team next year, Clark Griffith, owner of the club, announced today.

Griffith said that it had not been decided whether Harris would remain as a player on the team. No one has been selected to take his place, Griffith added. Joe Dundee, veteran first baseman for the Senators, has been mentioned often as a possible successor to Harris.

Harris became manager of the Washington club in 1924, won the American League pennant that year and beat the New York Giants in the world's series. He repeated the next year in the American League but lost to Pittsburgh in the world's series.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets.)—The market was strong on state cabbage today. Supplies were moderate. Early morning jobbing sales at various terminals in New York city and Brooklyn on white domestic type in bulk was transacted at $42-$45 per ton. Danish stock realized $45-$50.

Supplies of potatoes were fairly liberal. Trading was moderate and price changes were few and small in a steady market. Maine, bulk, cobblers, peddled out at $2.15-$2.25 per 150 pounds. Green Mountains commanded $2.35-$2.60.

Onion arrivals were moderate. The market ruled steady on fine quality offerings at about unchanged prices. Hundred pound sacks of No. 1 yellows from the middle western states changed hands at $3-$3.75, occasionally as high as $4.

Demand for cauliflower was quite active and under light receipts, prices advanced in a stronger market. Consignments from the Catskill Mountain section wholesaled at $2-$4.50 per crate. Colorado shipments sold at principally $2-$2.50.

State spinach was in moderate receipt. Quality as a whole was too attractive and in consequence values tended slightly lower. Sales were reported from 75c-$1.50 per crate. There was, however, a good inquiry for fancy spinach.

Arrivals of cut carrots from the western part of the state were lighter. The market was without decided change and business on unwashed muckland carrots was consummated at chiefly $3 per 100 pound sack and at $1.50-$1.75 per bushel basket.

Lettuce continued to vary greatly in quality and sales ranged widely. The very best Big Boston brought $1.25-$1.50, rarely $1.75 per crate. The poorest, however, sold down to 25-50 cents. Romaine peddled out at 75c-$2.

The demand was moderate for fancy celery but very limited on ordinary and green. Receipts from upstate were moderate. Celery, in the rough, packed in two-thirds crates realized $2-$2.75 for good to fancy and $1-$1.75 on poor to fair quality.

Home Bureau Rallies Popular

Attendance Largest Ever Known in County—Will Continue This Week in Four Communities—Everyone Is Invited.

Rallies are the chief topic for discussion in Home Bureau circles in Ulster county at this season of the [illegible] Napanoch and Kerhonkson held rallies last week, [illegible] with a larger attendance than rallies [illegible] a year ago. All [illegible] have been daintily served and carefully planned from a nutrition standpoint.

[illegible] sessions in each community have been full of interest. [illegible] made up for the programs [illegible] for the coming year. [illegible] the Napanoch community was [illegible] with a discussion on meal planning, given by Miss Helen Hubbell, nutrition specialist from the State College of Home Economics at [illegible]. At Kerhonkson a demonstration in tie dyeing was given in the afternoon by Miss Evelyn Nance, County Home Bureau Manager.

Rallies Continue This Week.

Rallies will continue this week, arrangements having been completed for an afternoon tea and program for the New Paltz community this afternoon. The rally is being held at the tea room "It" on Cherry Hill.

The Stone Ridge Home Bureau holds an afternoon tea from 3 to 5 Wednesday afternoon at the Casino, on the Leggett estate. A large crowd and good social time is expected at both of these afternoon affairs.

A rally beginning with luncheon will be held for the Lomontville Home Bureau, Thursday, October 4, at the home of Mrs. John Van Wagenen. In the afternoon the first lesson in the amount of food project will be given by Miss Nance. An exhibit of foods, showing the energy value of the most common foods, will be shown. Everyone in the community is cordially invited to be present.

Nutrition Lessons Continue.

Meanwhile the nutrition courses in the county are continuing. The Flatbush community having held its rally early in September is now ready for another meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. George Brown Friday afternoon. The second lesson in the amount of food project will be given. A large attendance is expected.

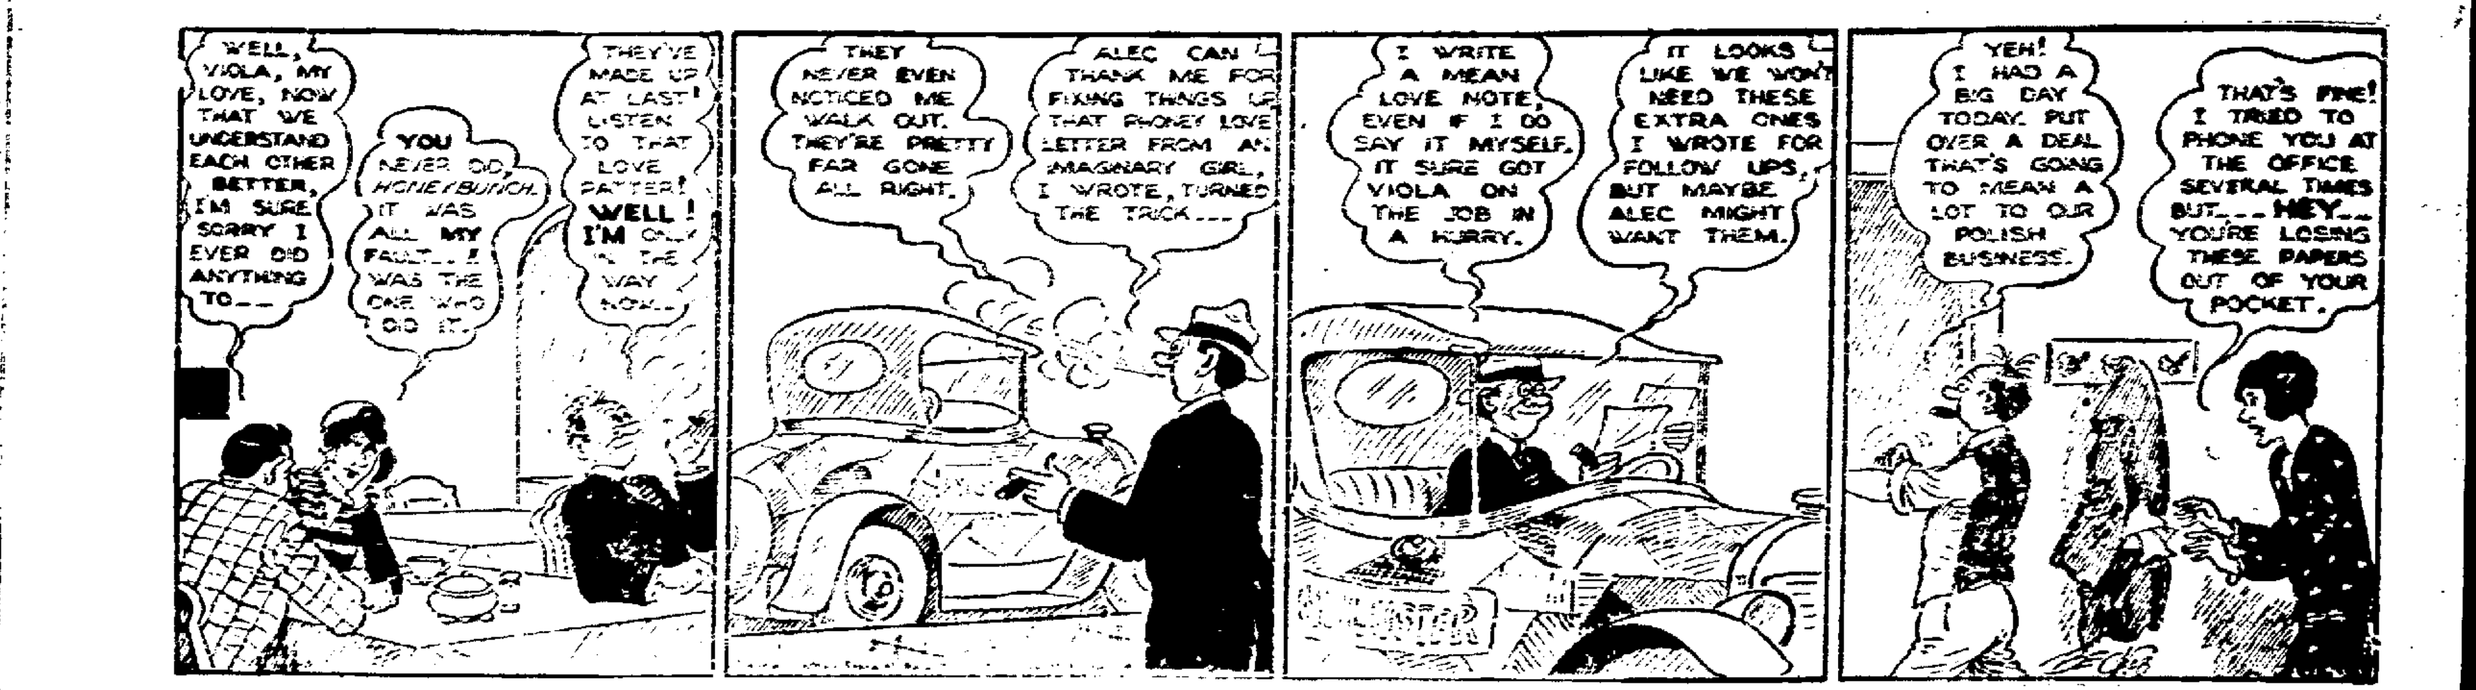
GAS BUGGIES—Breakers Ahead!



WELL, VIOLA, MY LOVE, NOW THAT WE UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER BETTER, I'M SURE SORRY I EVER DID ANYTHING TO—
YOU NEVER DID, HONEYBUNCH. IT WAS ALL MY FAULT. I WAS THE ONE WHO DID IT.
THEY'VE MADE UP AT LAST! LISTEN TO THAT LOVE PATTER! WELL! I'M ONLY IN THE WAY NOW.
THEY NEVER EVEN NOTICED ME WALK OUT. THEY'RE PRETTY FAR GONE ALL RIGHT.
ALEC CAN THANK ME FOR FIXING THINGS UP. THAT PHONEY LOVE LETTER FROM AN IMAGINARY GIRL, I WROTE, TURNED THE TRICK—
I WRITE A MEAN LOVE NOTE, EVEN IF I DO SAY IT MYSELF. IT SURE GOT VIOLA ON THE JOB IN A HURRY.
IT LOOKS LIKE WE WON'T NEED THESE EXTRA ONES I WROTE FOR FOLLOW UPS, BUT MAYBE ALEC MIGHT WANT THEM.
YEH! I HAD A BIG DAY TODAY. PUT OVER A DEAL THAT'S GOING TO MEAN A LOT TO OUR POLISH BUSINESS.
THAT'S FINE! I TRIED TO PHONE YOU AT THE OFFICE SEVERAL TIMES BUT— HEY— YOU'RE LOSING THESE PAPERS OUT OF YOUR POCKET.

MT. TREMPER.

Mt. Tremper, Oct. 1.—There was no school on Friday as Miss More was away attending a teachers' meeting.

Sunday a family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner in honor of Mr. Gardner's birthday.

Wesley Mersereau of Detroit, Mich., spent the week end with his daughters, the Misses Theo and Janice Mersereau, who are staying at Mrs. Norman Wilber's.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Every, who have been spending the summer in a cottage here, have returned to Kingston for the winter.

Saturday afternoon a birthday party was held at the home of Miss Jennie Byron in honor of her 14th birthday. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent playing games and delicious refreshments were served. Those who attended were the Misses Edna Quoak, Evelyn Ingersoll, Ruth Wilber, Janice and Theo Mersereau.

Lester M. Randall went to Lancaster, Pa., on Sunday, where he will resume his studies at the Bowman Technical School.

Miss Leita Randall is spending a few days at Kingston.

Mrs. Grace Randall is spending a few days with Mrs. Clarence Traver at Rhinebeck.

Relatives from here attended a house warming at the new home that Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scudder, Jr., of Kingston recently purchased near West Shokan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner and family were Kingston visitors Saturday.

Work Rebukes Alabama Leader

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP).—Chairman Work of the Republican national committee, made public late last night the text of a telegram he sent on September 29 to Oliver D. Street, national committeeman for Alabama, in which he expressed disapproval of Street's issuance of a circular attacking Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee, because of his membership in the Roman Catholic Church.

The telegram was not made public until after Chairman Work had been informed that Street had been quoted as denying that he had received such a message from the Republican national chairman. Previously Chairman Work had said that he sent a telegram to Street condemning the dragging into the political campaign of the religious issue, but he refused to make the communication public at that time. Street, in addition to being national committeeman for his state, is also state Republican campaign chairman.

Chairman Work in his telegram said he had received a circular, supposedly written by Street and having as its subject: "Governor Smith's membership in the Roman Catholic Church and its proper place as an issue in the campaign."

The Republican national chairman declared that he "regretted exceedingly" that the religious issue should be dragged into the campaign and called Street's attention to a letter written by Chairman Work to all national committeemen, which said:

"The campaign policy we propose to follow will be informative and constructive only. The groupings of the conscience and personal liberty within the law are not proper subjects for political debate."

Chairman Work also expressed the belief that "you will observe the suggestion in the future."

Minstrel Show For Holy Name

The stage is set for the minstrel show to be presented in St. Mary's School Hall, corner of Broadway and McEntee street, Wednesday, October 3, at 8 p. m., for the benefit of Holy Name Parish, Wilbur. A fine evening's entertainment is promised. Dancing will follow the show.

A cast drilled by Miss Adeline Walker, who coached two successful shows for the benefit of Holy Name Parish during the summer, is ready to put the minstrel show over in stellar fashion. The show is made up of attractive solo numbers interspersed by plenty of comedy. The ends will be played by Tommy Stenson, Johnny Fisher, George Reis and Johnny Dulin, a quartet who have made hits in past performances.

The program:

THE LANDAU
$1085 f. o. b. Lansing Spare Tire Extra

Never in the history of the industry has it been possible to buy so fine a car as this Oldsmobile Landau at so low a price.

Its beautiful Fisher Body was designed by artist-engineers. Its smart, low lines, balanced proportions, and rich exterior finish win admiration everywhere. A fabrikoid-over-metal top and rear panel, and graceful landau-bows add to its style.

The interior is luxuriously upholstered and handsomely appointed. Comfortable arm rests are provided for passengers in the rear seat.

And a great new 55-horsepower engine provides brilliant high-compression performance without using special fuel.

You'll want this Oldsmobile Landau when you see it and drive it. And comparison with other cars will assure you that you can't even remotely approach such value at the price.

Junior project work does not encourage every boy and girl to remain on the farm but better fits them to decide whether they want to stay on the farm or not. It will make farmers by choice and build up a strong rural population. In turn, this will lead to a more prosperous state and nation. Without a prosperous agriculture cities cannot [illegible].

If organized, the work will be under the supervision of a Board of Junior Extension or Junior Project committee. This committee will consist of representatives of the Farm and Home Bureau Association, Pomona Grange, and other interested organizations.

Granges throughout the county seem to be very much interested. Some have taken definite action to do all they can to help organize the work. The Kiwanis Club of Kingston has expressed its interest and many other prominent men have likewise.

The problem is to raise $2,500 and take advantage of the $1,500 available from the state. If this is done 4 H Clubs will be organized. Ulster county has always taken the lead in most activities and it cannot afford to fall behind in educational work among the rural children.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Tuesday, Oct. 2, 1928 ....

"You can't get on without a pull," said one passenger to another boarding a crowded street car.

"And you can't get off with a push," returned his companion as he pressed the button to signal for the next stop.

Sad Words.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these: "It's dat again."
And oft it gives me quite a pain
To read: "Gasoline Goes Up Again."
These sad laments do make one blue,
But none distresses us one bit
As much as "This month's payment's due
Upon your car, so please remit."
As sources of great worriment,
Those things don't seem to hit
Like the ninety days' free service
That we never seem to git.
This sad reflection is a lot
More bitter still, I guess;
To find the car you last month bought
Is now two hundred less.
Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are: "He owes me ten."
The thing that drives me to despair
Is when my soup contains a hair.

The trouble with an attractive woman is that she attracts so many other men.

The Evader.

"My dear, will you lend me your vacuum cleaner?"
Said a lady on borrowing bent;
And could you conceive a response
that was meaner!
For the owner replied, "It is lent."

A job in the hand is worth two in the "Want ads."

Fable: She was 27 and had a job and didn't envy her girl friends who had captured good providers.

Stealing a kiss is really only petting larceny.

Daughter: "The preacher just phoned and said he was coming to call this afternoon."

Mother: "Gracious, we must make a good impression; give baby the hymn book to play with."

A Kingston sheik has named his car "Paul Revere." It takes him on so many midnight rides.

"That makes a difference," said a little boy as he snipped off the left ear of one of the twins.

An optimist is the grocer who advertises "delicious" carrots and spinach."

The reason they don't put a wide hem in young girls' skirts any more is because they hate quit letting them down, no matter how long her legs get.

"I like the smaller towns for one reason," said a woman who recently moved here, "and that is that people are always saying nice things to your face."

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Oct. 1.—Nelson Dubb, who has been a supply in the Reformed Church of The Clove for the past summer, left a most inspiring message to his congregation on Sunday morning. Mr. Dubb's theme was taken from Galatians 5:24, and will have a lasting impression.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society, an all-day's quilting, will be held on Thursday, October 4, in the basement of the church. Lunch will be served at noon, and the usual business meeting in the afternoon. All who can possibly attend are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Beaton have returned home after a pleasant vacation at Lake George and other places of interest.

Miss Jessie Snyder and Miss Belle Van Wagenen called on Miss M. C. Van Wagenen on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Lefever are spending some time with their son, Matt Lefever, and family, in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Fannie Depew, who has been quite ill, has so far recovered as to be about the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Steen and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Rose at Beacon.

Mrs. George Lefevre spent Friday with Mrs. E. D. Kortright.

Mrs. Delilah Yeaple and Mrs. Julia Steen were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lapolt on Wednesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wood were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Festus Yeaple on Sunday.

Legion Men Gather at Alamo. Shrine of American Bravery

On the plaza of the Alamo (upper left) Gen. John J. Pershing (lower left) will review the American Legion parade at San Antonio. With him will be Field Marshal Sir Edmund H. H. Allenby (upper right), commander of the British forces which liberated the Holy Land, and Maj. Georges Scapini (lower center), French war hero and member of the chamber of deputies.

San Antonio, Texas (AP).—The Yanks are coming!

Between 75,000 and 100,000 members of the American Legion and its feminine auxiliary are expected to be in San Antonio, October 8 to 12, for the tenth national convention of the World War veterans' organization.

For many of the soldiers and nurses of a decade ago the convention will be, in a way, a home-coming. More than a quarter of a million men trained for the war at the dozen military posts near San Antonio, including Fort Sam Houston, Camp Travis and Kelly Field.

To others it will be the first pilgrimage to a great shrine of American valor in battle—the Alamo, where 172 Texas soldiers, fighting an army of 4,000 nearly a century ago, died like the Spartans at Thermopylae.

On the plaza of the Alamo will be the reviewing stand for the big parade the second day of the convention. There Gen. John J. Pershing will see again the men whom he commanded ten years ago. He will be back in the city from which he was called to Washington in 1917 to take command of the American army.

In the reviewing stand with Gen. Pershing will be Field Marshal Sir Edmund H. H. Allenby, commander of the British army which liberated the Holy Land; Maj. Georges Scapini, blinded war hero of France, now a member of the chamber of deputies, and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who, like many of the marching men, received his earliest army training at San Antonio.

Leading the parade as grand marshal will be Col. Beaumont Buck, a retired officer, who, as a major general in war time, carried out the first American offensive at Cantigny. Armed with only a riding quirt, he led the first wave of the attack. For this example of bravery to his men he was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross and later made a chevalier of the French Legion of Honor.

The automobile which Woodrow Wilson used when he was commander-in-chief of the men who answered his call to "make the world safe for democracy" will roll along in the parade. Relics as well as mementos of war days will appear, too. Among these will be Verdun, mascot of the Fifteenth Field Artillery that was foaled in 1917 on the battlefield after which it is named.

Besides bands, advancing colors and marching columns, there will be a reproduction of a night in France to remind the veterans of 1917 and 1918. Regular army soldiers are the actors for this drama, and a large piece of the military reservation at Fort Sam Houston is their stage. They have dug trenches, marked off another "no man's land," laid mines and rehearsed the battle, which is to be a huge display of pyrotechnics.

Louisville, Detroit, Miami, Buffalo and Seattle are contenders for next year's convention, while Boston and Los Angeles dominate the field for the 1930 bidding.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Oct. 2.—Miss Cecilia Downer of Newburgh spent the week end with her aunt, Mrs. John Downer.

Miss Crispbell spent the week end at her home in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGowan and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGowan spent Sunday in Dutchess county.

REVIVAL OF FUR JACKET FOSTERS CAUSE OF BLOUSE

New York, [illegible] a fancy for jackets [illegible] the lost art of walking [illegible] it will be less effort [illegible] the burden of a long fur, or long cloth, heavily-furred coat. Coats, however, may not be regarded as actually long when even full length [illegible] clear of the ground by 12 inches or more. How fearful and terrible it must have been to carry about the down-to-the-ground Alaska seal garments of yesteryear.

One of the most appealing things about modern furs is that they have responded so graciously to treatments which make them supple and capable of careful detail in tailoring. While there is no fur frowned down this season, there is a distinct flutter of interest in the curly furs, and at the same time a disposition to look with favor on shaved ones.

Caracul Fashions This Youthful Fur Jacket With Throw Scarf in Convertible Styling. This Jacket Is Lined With Cashmere, So That It May Be Worn on the Reverse Side. It Is Also Adapted to a Three-Piece Ensemble Styling With Matching Woolen Dress. (Sketched for Fairchild.)

It has become something of a fashion to prefer a cloth or velvet lining for one's fur jackets, rather than silk, and some delectable models may be found which are reversible, an ideal garment surely. Collars cut in one with the coat are another innovation. They quite naturally tend toward scarf lines.

The revival of the jacket, automatically has fostered the cause of the blouse. While the jacket is quite an appropriate walking companion for the trotteur or one-piece dress, it steps out with equal joy in the company of the separate blouse and skirt. The Ladies' Aid of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Van Aken October 10, at 8 p. m.

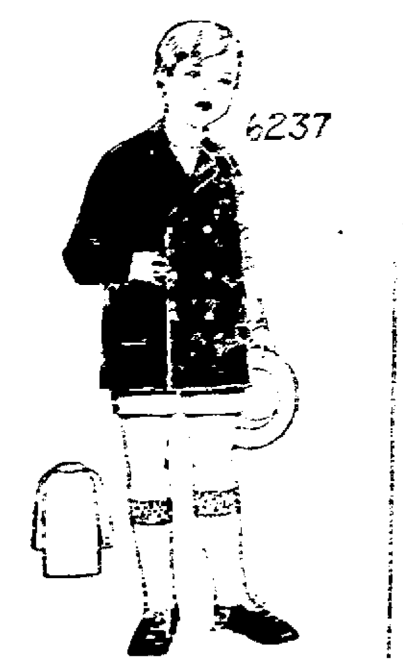
OUR DAILY PATTERN.



A Comfortable Top Coat For a Small Boy.

6237. This desirable model has sleeves with saddle shoulder extensions affording ease and comfort. The fronts are double breasted and form revers below a collar that meets the front in notches. Pockets are inserted under flaps. This is a good style for cheviot, tweed, velvet or corduroy and other coat materials. Chinchilla would be nice for this model.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 2, 4 and 6 years. A 4 year size will require 1¼ yard of 54 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1928 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Rebuked

Little six-year-old Helen was skating one afternoon when Jerry, the neighbor's dog, came running out and insisted on being directly in front of her on the walk. She tried to skate around him, but no use—he was always just where she wanted to skate. Finally losing patience, she stopped and, looking intently at Jerry, exclaimed: "Go away, Jerry—you give me delirium tremens."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Miss Margaret L. St. John, friend of Miss Mary Josephine Lauder, is back from Europe, having been unable to accept an invitation to a wedding in Italy. "It was pretty clear when Polly first met Gene that she liked him a great deal," said Miss St. John. "They're sure to be happy and made excellent choices."

Philadelphia—The Rev. Jeremiah W. Tamblyn, 77, father of nine children, is on his way to Miami with his bride, the former Miss Edith Myer, 36. He has been pastor of the Free Methodist Church in New York, but has accepted a call to Miami.

New York—Evidently it is not that males are wary in leap year. Marriage licenses issued at the Municipal Building total 3,500 less than in the same period last year. A recent law limits the marriages of minors.

London—The life of an automobile with King George is four years. He has just bought a new one, his fifth in two decades.

New York—The time seems to be coming when one out of ten persons in the U. S. A. will be old, that is, more than 65 years of age. Due to declining birthrate, restricted immigration and improvements in fighting disease, the proportion of old people in the population is changing constantly. This was pointed out to the New York Academy of Medicine by Dr. Louis I. Dublin.

London—Two brothers of Viscount Grey have been killed hunting big game in Africa. In 1911 George was killed by a lion. Recently injuries inflicted by a buffalo proved fatal to Charles.

Los Angeles—Fildom seems to fascinate British notables. Prince George was a recent visitor. The latest is Sir Austen Chamberlain, entertained by Doug Fairbanks et al.

Hoston—R. K. Howell, refinery superintendent, was listening to Dixie baseball series returns over the radio. Came the roar of the crowd over a thrilling play. Mr. Howell slumped from a piano stool to the floor dead.

Redeemer School Opens Wednesday

The first session of Weekday Church School of Redeemer Lutheran Church, corner Wurts and Rogers streets, will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Those who have not already registered may do so at that time. The tentative curriculum is as follows:-

3:30-4, Recreation.
4-4:10, Worship.
4:10-4:20, Memory work, including prayers, hymns and Scripture passages.
4:20-4:25, Hymn.
4:25-5:00, Bible study. Each grade will have its own text book.

The recently issued weekday school books issued by the United Lutheran Publication House will be used. The pastor's class, which will consist of those already confirmed or to be confirmed next Monday, will study the Gospel of Mark.

5:00-5:10, Mission study.
5:10-5:15, Closing service.

Only thoroughly trained teachers are enrolled on the faculty. All children are eligible to join the school. There will be no charge, although an offering will be taken each week.

As it will be impossible to start the regular courses this week a special surprise program will be given instead. All boys and girls desiring to be confirmed next year are required to attend the weekday school for the special Bible study. Certificates of merit will be granted to all scholars successfully completing the work of their grade.

Brock and Schlee Will Try Again

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 2 (AP).—Balked by a balking gasoline tank in their effort to bring the world endurance flying record back to the United States, William Brock and Edward Schlee have announced plans for another attempt soon.

The fliers, who several months ago made a record-breaking trip around the world by ship and airplane, were forced to give up their endurance flight at 6:19 p.m. yesterday when an exhausted gasoline supply forced them down after 59 hours and 14 minutes in the air.

The world's record of 65 hours, 25 minutes was set last summer by Johann Risztics and Wilhelm Zimmermann, German aviators.

The aviators, who took off last Saturday morning with 560 gallons of gasoline in their single motored Bellanca monoplane, were unable to explain the gasoline loss, which was discovered two hours before they landed. At the takeoff they believed they had a sufficient supply for 80 hours in the air, but when the pressure fell off yesterday afternoon Schlee cut the top from a tank presumed to be full, and found that the gasoline there was almost exhausted.

Their flight established a new American endurance record, the best time having been made by Edward A. Stinson and George W. Haldeman at Jacksonville, Fla., when they stayed up 53 hours, 36 minutes and 30 seconds.

MAE WEST, ACTRESS AND AUTHOR, ARRESTED AGAIN

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—Mae West, actress and author, who served ten days in jail last year for taking part in an indecent performance, was arrested again early today after police raided the Broadway premiere of her latest play, "Pleasure Man."

Fifty-five men and women comprising the play's cast were loaded in patrol wagons at the close of the evening's performance and taken to a police station a block away. There, after several hours, they were released on bail.

Miss West, who is author of the play but not a member of its cast, was arrested at another theatre where she is starring in "Diamond Lil." She posted $500 bail for a hearing. All were charged with producing or taking part in an indecent performance.

The raid caused considerable excitement among the crowded Broadway throngs. Traffic was jammed and cheers, boos and hisses greeted the performers on their short ride.

Acting on reports from suburban towns where the play was given preliminary showings, the police department had a half dozen officials in the audience. At 10:30 o'clock while the play was still in progress a signal was given to a score of plain clothes men stationed outside and all exits were placed under guard.

Patrons, however, were unaware of the police activity until they began to leave the theatre. No effort was made to interfere with them, but at the conclusion of the show the entire cast was confined back stage to await patrol wagons.

Audiences from nearby theatres also were leaving at the same time and the streets soon were packed with humanity. The crowd became so dense that police reserves were called out to open the street to traffic.

Miss West, after being taken into custody at her theatre, was detained at the police station several hours. After a statement by her had been taken down by a police stenographer she was released under bail furnished by a professional bondsman. Bail for the members of the cast was furnished by the Actors' Equity Association. Frank Gilmore, secretary of the association, declared the arrest of the cast was a "disgrace."

Miss West, who gave her age as 28, was appearing in a play called "Sex," of which she also was the author, when she was arrested last year. She carried her case to trial and was convicted, being sentenced to ten days in the workhouse and fined $500.

KING ALFONSO REPORTED COOL TO DE RIVERA

London, Oct. 2 (AP).—Tales of coolness between King Alfonso of Spain and Premier Primo de Rivera, the Spanish dictator, are reaching the Spanish frontier. some observers think that the premier, who has just celebrated the fifth anniversary of his dictatorship, may be replaced.

Travelers from Madrid arriving at St. Jean de Luz, France, said that there had been a renewal of agitation against the dictator during the last few days, although the country was tranquil. There was growing dissatisfaction with Primo de Rivera, who was charged with favoring friends or members of the Union Patriotica, his political party, in appointments to more important offices. Political capital was also being made of the recent European tour by King Alfonso, of whose movements the dictator was reported not to have been informed.

The Daily Mail today printed a dispatch from the Spanish frontier saying that hostility toward Primo de Rivera on the part of both the king and the army might lead to the replacement of the premier.

The dictator was said to have asked the king to punish those who had made hostile statements about the dictatorship by expulsion, imprisonment or fines. Alfonso was said not only to have refused to do so but also to be little disposed toward publishing an expression of approval of Primo's policy, which the premier had requested.

The king was also reported to have said while in Sweden that he never wanted the dictatorship but that it was forced on him.

Yankees Will Enter the Series Badly Crippled

Cardinals Came Through Without a Bruise—Bettors Think Cardinals Will Win and Are Willing to Place 10 to 7.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—If they'd only play this world's series in a hospital ward the Yankees would win without a struggle.

The bettors think the St. Louis Cardinals are going to repeat their world's championship of 1926. And being gentlemen of conviction, they're ready to put $10 down on the line against $7 to back their judgment.

While Bill McKechnie spends his spare time gloating over the fact that his Cardinals came through the strenuous National League pennant battle without so much as a bruise, Miller Huggins turns his wistful eye to the Yankee ranks and sees nothing but the lame, the halt and the blind. Bandages are a part of standard Yankee equipment as are gloves. The pungent aroma of arnica and iodine discloses the presence of other casualties who on the surface appear almost hale and hearty.

But strangely enough, Huggins, the gloomy Gil Bobbe of baseball, is not ready to bury his hopes of another world's title to add to those he won in 1923 against the New York Giants, and last year when his clouting circus made the ferocious Pirates of Pittsburgh seem quite innocuous by comparison.

Some of his cripples day by day are getting better and better and besides, Huggins has a "lot of confidence" in his team.

But there's no gainsaying that the Yanks are going to enter the first game of the series on Thursday badly handicapped. Pennock, as good a world's series pitcher as baseball history can name, will not be in there mystifying batsmen with his left-handed slants. Nor will Wiley Moore, who also won one of the games against the Pirates last fall. Waite Hoyt, George Pipgras and Tom Zachary will have to bear the burden this time.

Infield Better on Hospital Bed.

Most of the infield would appear to better advantage on a hospital bed than on the ball field. Tony Lazzeri, who can throw overhand only at the price of excruciating pain in his shoulder, will be at second base; Mark Koenig, suffering from a sore foot, will limp about shortstop territory. Lou Gehrig, struck in the face by a batted ball in the last game of the regular season, will do his first basing with a pair of swollen lips but otherwise in sound health. Joe Dugan's accustomed place at third base probably will be taken care of almost exclusively by Gene Robertson, who is untried, as yet, in series fire.

Bob Meusel and the one and only Babe Ruth will be in the outfield, although the latter is troubled by a trick knee. Centerfield duty probably will be divided between Cedric Durst and Ben Paschal although there's a possibility that Earle Combs's injured wrist may mend fast enough to let the "Kentucky Colonel" into the lineup before the series ends.

Cardinals Ready for Series.

In sharp contrast to these misfortunes that have struck the American League champions, the Cardinals are quite ready for the series. McKechnie's Club is in first-rate shape and with wee Willie Sherdel, Jess Haines, Grover Alexander, Clarence Mitchell and Flint Rhem ready to do the pitching, Bill, who went through all this with the Pirates in 1925, is not worrying overmuch.

Sherdel, Alex and Mitchell, on paper at least, figure to give the Yankees some bad moments. The American League title-holders thrive on speed and generally have trouble with the slow ball pitchers with control. Alexander and Sherdel both gave the Yanks all kinds of trouble in 1926. It may be remembered, although Sherdel was unlucky enough to lose two games, largely because he was matched with Pennock.

Indications are that Sherdel and Haines will pitch the first two games here and that Alexander will be sent to the mound in the third game at St. Louis, Sunday. For reasons easily understood, Huggins is extremely uncertain as to how he will work his pitchers, but it is generally agreed that he can start no one but the well known mortician, Hoyt. Pipgras possibly will shoulder the burden in Friday's game and Zachary who, already has seen a world's series with Waashington, may get the call on Sunday.

All the reserved seats for the opening game at the Yankee Stadium have been sold but 40,000 unreserved tickets will go on sale the day of the first game. Prospects are for an opening day crowd of close to 80,000.

CARD PARTIES TO BE HELD FOR BENEFITS.

The Past Noble Grands' Club of Colonel Rebekah Lodge will hold a card party Thursday, October 11, at Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street.

Mrs. Charles Ewel of 253 East Chester street will hold a card party at her home on Wednesday, October 3, at 8 p. m., for the benefit of the Good Will Club. Refreshments will be served.

The Good Will Club will hold a card party Wednesday, October 10, at 8 p. m., in Weber's Hall, lower Broadway. Refreshments will be served.

A Rummage Sale.

The young ladies of the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild are arranging to hold a rummage sale October 6-13, in the building on the corner of Broadway and Ferry street, which is No. 1 Broadway. They will have many useful and worthwhile articles for sale, including clothing, household articles, etc.

Princeton Quits Huddle System

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—Princeton, first of the big eastern colleges to adopt the huddle system, has reverted to the old signal-calling system in vogue before quarterbacks had so much vocal opposition from the stands.

The change was not made because Bill Roper, the Tigers' head coach, thought the crowds were going to be any noisier this season. But Bill held that the huddle system has lost one of its chief advantages through the new ruling which forces players to come out of the huddle to halt a full second at the line of scrimmage before the ball can be snapped. Heretofore the ball could be passed back before the defensive team had a chance to meet new line or back formations.

A quarterback with a husky pair of lungs ought to be able to be heard above the clamor of the crowd, however loud the noise it makes, Bill opines. At any rate the quarterback will be calling signals when Princeton lines up against Vermont in its opening game on Saturday.

[illegible] the [illegible] of the one-[illegible] their in-[illegible] on the [illegible] week end. Yale, featuring an aerial attack, takes on Maine. While Harvard is [illegible] Springfield.

A defense against lateral as well as forward passes is being stressed this week by "Biff" Jones, of the Army which battles the Southern Methodist University's crack array in what should be the banner engagement of the week.

Another team from below the Mason and Dixon line, William and Mary, comes north to uphold the south's football prestige against a Syracuse eleven still in the process of finding itself. Not to be outdone, the north send Colgate to Nashville, Tenn., to face Vanderbilt. Completing the intersectional card so far as the east is concerned is West Virginia University's fray at Wheeling against the Haskell Indians, of Lawrence, Kan.

There will be plenty of work for "Navy Bill" Ingram's Annapolis midshipmen this week. The navy got off on its wrong foot against Davis-Elkins and needs to be in better form to down a pretty good Boston College eleven.

Jackie Fields New Ring Sensation

San Francisco, Oct. 2 (AP).—A smiling, clean-cut youth of 21, who beat a champion contender, today was the newest ring sensation to rise out of the west.

The youth is Jackie Fields, tireless puncher from Los Angeles, and the ten round beating he gave young Jack Thompson, negro contender for the welterweight title, last night, may have placed him in line for a title bout soon.

Fields handed the negro, conqueror of Champion Joe Dundee in a non-title fight, the worst beating of his career. Thompson has been matched for a title bout with Dundee in New York November 16, but Gig Rooney, Fields's manager, previously declared he had received a letter from Tom McCardle, New York matchmaker, indicating willingness to pit Fields instead of Thompson against the champion, provided Fields defeated the negro contender.

Fields, weighing 145½ pounds to 144 for Thompson, pummelled his dusky opponent with a wilting body attack and short lefts and rights to the face to win seven rounds. Thompson's rallies in the sixth and seventh rounds gave him those sessions. The fifth was even.

It made eleven straight victories for Fields, five of them by knockouts.

Oldsmobile for Boys in Texas

When the "Good-Will Ambassadors" of Kingston, the Gateway to the Catskills, arrive at San Antonio, the Golden City of the Great Southwest, they will have at their disposal during their stay in the convention city a new Oldsmobile car.

Arrangements were made in New York on Monday by P. J. Beichert, a charter member of Kingston Post of the American Legion, who is a member of the firm of Southard-Beichert, Inc., local Oldsmobile dealers.

This car, which will be used by the American Legion Drum Corps while in San Antonio will be distinguished by a special hood on which will be lettered: "Official Car, Drum Corps, Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, Kingston, N. Y." Besides giving Kingston lots of publicity while this car is being run around San Antonio, the Oldsmobile Company has arranged to have a picture taken of the car, surrounded by the local drum corps, and this picture will be extensively used by the company throughout the country for advertising purposes.

The special hood will be used for the first time in Kingston in the parade on Thursday afternoon, when the delegation marches to the ferry. At the ferry it will be detached from the car, taken aboard the train, and used on the official car while in San Antonio.

Vosdick-La Duke Battle a Draw

Feature Attraction and Two Other Bouts Ended Even—Vincetti Scored Lone K.O.—Molvin and Turner Lose.

The boxing program presented at the armory Monday night under the auspices of the First Battalion of the 156th Field Artillery was characterized by draws, one of which was the result of the feature attraction between Joe Vosdick, local scrapper, and Billy La Duke of the Naval Militia, Brooklyn.

Jerry Sampere, Poughkeepsie slugger, and Al De Lamont of the 369th Infantry, New York, battled on even terms in the four round curtain raiser, which proved a real sockfest. Kid Rash, 121 pound colored battler of the 369th, and Chico Gonales of New York, who had a two-pound advantage, went nip and tuck for six rounds to make up the third draw on the card.

The fans, not as numerous as usual, got quite a surprise when Johnny Turner, 126 pounder of the East Side, dropped his six round scrap to Frankie Milletti of New York, who tipped the scales at 135. Milletti, although he did not look as good as Turner in the first two stanzas made a good impression in the last three rounds when he improved and punished his rival with hard body blows. Turner tried to get over a haymaker in the closing rounds but seemed arm weary.

Molvin Loses to Howard.

Charlie Molvin, Kingston battler, who had been doing away with his opponents by way of the knockout route, received a setback Monday at the hands of Jimmy Howard, New York boy who he defeated here several weeks ago. Howard, a clever little mittman of the metropolis, taught Molvin a lesson in boxing as the sturdy little local lad tried to rush him. Doc Studer's protege could not get to Howard's body except in the fourth and at the start of the fifth, because of Howard's excellent guard. Molvin took plenty on the face as he endeavored to reach the New Yorker's body.

Dan Heffler of New York lasted the first and two minutes and 25 seconds of the second round, with Louis Vincetti of the same city in their scheduled six rounder. Vincetti, who substituted for Johnny Long, dropped his man for the count of nine in the first round, repeated the accomplishment at the opening of the second stanza and finished Heffler by a kayo with 25 seconds to go.

Main Bout Slow.

The feature attraction was not as flashy as expected owing to the tactics used by Vosdick and La Duke. The two scrappers clinched often and clean punches were few. Vosdick apparently got over the greatest number as La Duke's face presented a reddened appearance towards the last of the scrap. During the last round the men gave their fastest exhibition of the tilt.

McVeigh Here Oct. 15.

Mickey McVeigh of Newburgh was introduced from the ring. He will meet a formidable opponent at the next show to be held at the armory on Monday night, October 15.

Announcer Sam Kiber also presented Joe Walcott, former welterweight champion of the world, and announced that the colored fighter would establish a boxing school on North street, this city.

Tommy Jones, welterweight contender, who has climbed to lofty heights in the fistic sport, acted as one of the judges, while Bill Singer, of Singer's Service Station on the Strand, was the other. Jones, who was one of the late Walk Miller's favorites, is occupying quarters at the Eddyville Health Camp until the settling of the Miller estate. He is scheduled to fight in Cleveland, Ohio, in the near future. Dan Florio refereed the bouts and Dick Malone was timekeeper.

The Family Would Wait.

Tommy was meandering homeward much later than his usual supper time. A friend of the family who happened to meet him, said:

"Why, Tommy, aren't you afraid you'll be late for supper?"

"Nope," replied Tommy, "I've got the meat."

CITY ORDINANCE.

An ordinance for establishing the grade, curbing and flagging of Mountain View Avenue from Main Street to the end of said Mountain View Avenue.

Passed: September 25, 1928.

The Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

Resolved, that the grade of Mountain View Avenue from Main Street to the end of said Avenue be and is hereby fixed and established as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center line of Mountain View Avenue and Main Street at an elevation of 197.0 feet above city datum, thence ascending at the rate of 11.5 feet per 100 feet for a distance of 100 feet to an elevation of 208.5 feet, thence ascending at the rate of 10.0 feet per 100 feet for a distance of 50.0 feet to an elevation of 213.5 feet, thence ascending at the rate of 6.0 feet per 100.0 feet for a distance of 100.0 feet to an elevation of 219.5 feet, thence ascending at the rate of 3.856 feet per 100.0 feet for a distance of 70.0 feet to an elevation of 222.2 feet at the end of Mountain View Avenue.

Resolved, that the above mentioned portion of Mountain View Avenue be curbed, and flagged in accordance with the grade of said street as hereby established.

Resolved, that the sidewalks on both sides of the above mentioned portion of Mountain View Avenue be curbed and flagged in the manner following: The curb stones shall not be less than twenty inches in depth nor less than four inches in thickness. The curb stones shall be set to the established elevation and the grade of the street, and cut to curves of the proper radius at intersecting streets.

The sidewalks shall be flagged with sound smooth flagging stone, five feet in width, and not less than three inches in thickness and shall be laid with a rising inclination of one-quarter of an inch per foot from curb line to the street line.

All curbing and flagging shall be embedded in sand or other equally good material free from clay. Such curbing and flagging shall be made and completed within thirty days after due service of notice upon the owner or occupant so to do, and if the work be not done and completed within the time above specified the expense of resetting missing grade stakes shall be paid by said owner or occupant and the Board of Public Works may have the curbing and flagging done at the expense of delinquent owners or occupants.

Provided, however, that if any property owner so elects, concrete sidewalks and curb of approved construction satisfactory to the city engineer and of the designated widths and depths as herein prescribed may be used in the place and stead of blue stone.

This ordinance shall be published as required by the provisions of the city charter and a copy of said ordinance shall be served upon each of said owners or occupants, this section being intended to be such notice.

State of New York, }
County of Ulster, } SS:
City of Kingston. }

I, John J. Linson, Assistant Secretary of the Board of Public Works do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing Ordinance with original on file and on record in the Office of the Board of Public Works and that the same is a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole of said original.

JOHN J. LINSON,
Assistant Secretary
Board of Public Works.

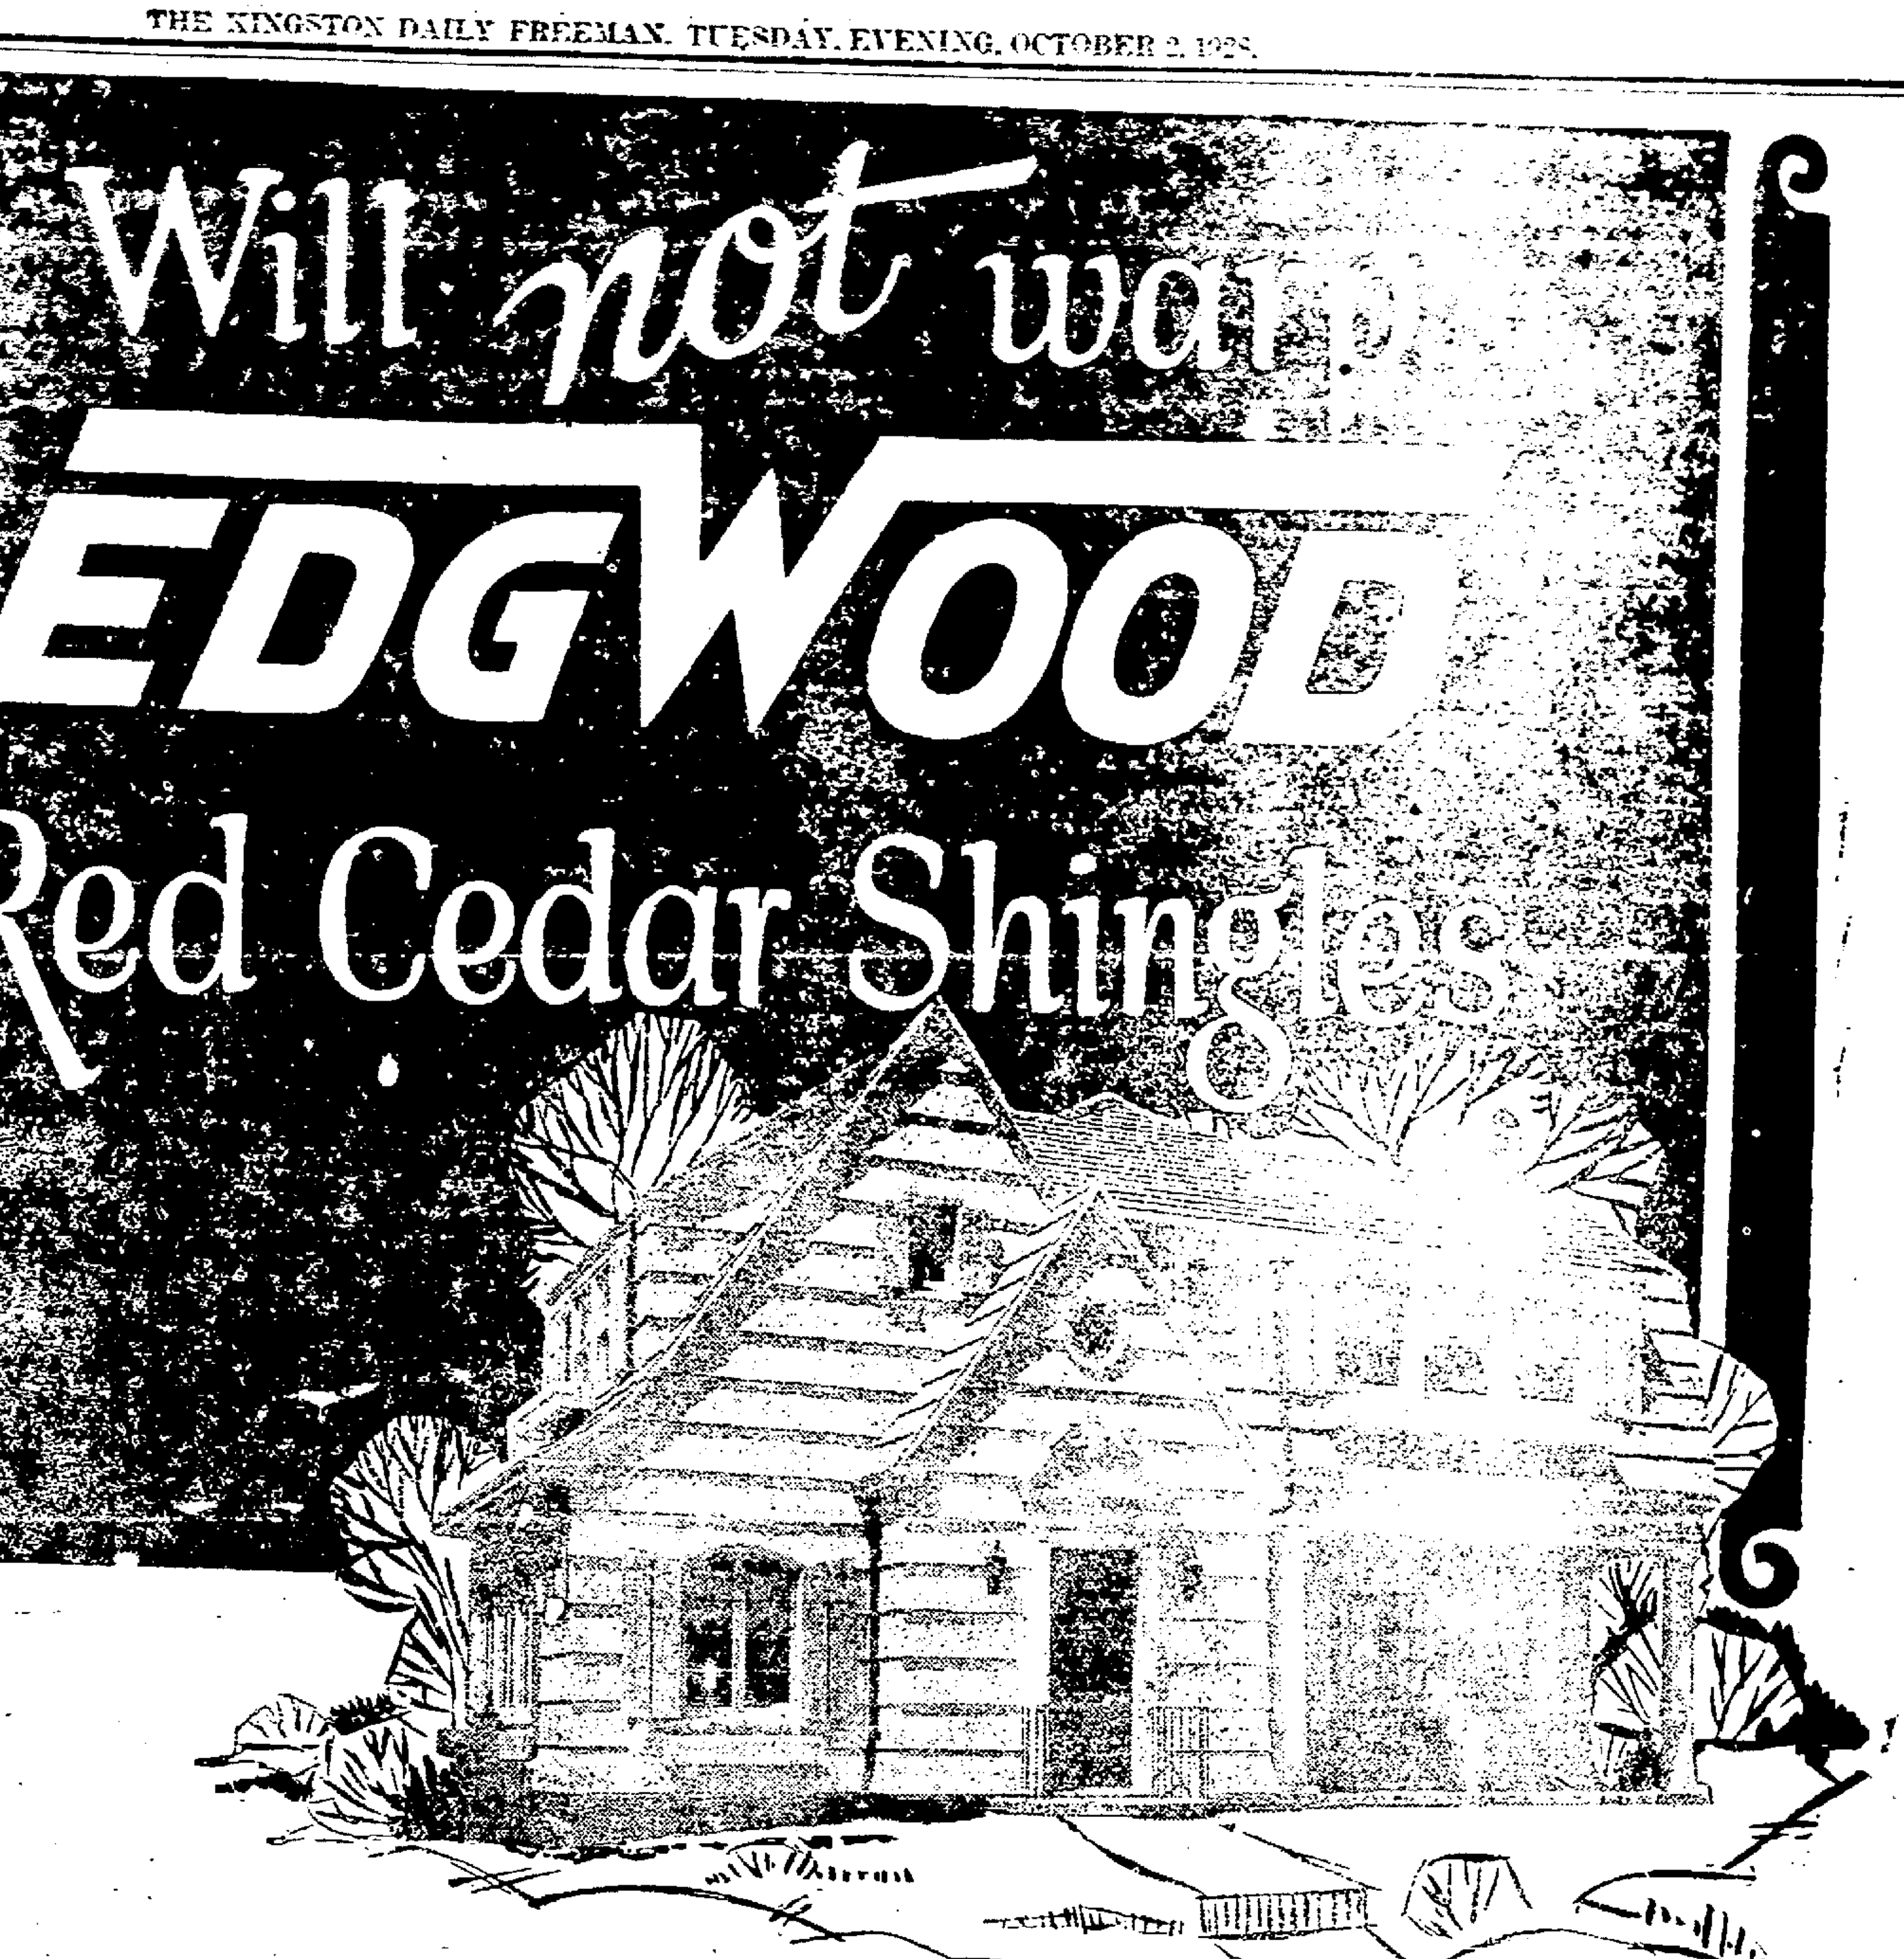
EDGWOOD

Red Cedar Shingles



Re-Roofing Made Easy

Laying EDGWOODS right over the old roof is absolutely practical. Thousands of homes have been re-roofed this way. This method offers many advantages—no expense tearing off the old roof—no dirt or litter—no injury to shrubs or flowers—protection in the event of sudden rain storms during construction—and of greater importance is the double insulation, making your home warmer in winter and cooler in summer. EDGWOODS are the one Red Cedar Shingle particularly adapted to re-roofing over old roofs as they are all Edge Grain ... will not warp ... force the old shingle tight to the sheathing and hold that position permanently. Your local lumber dealer will gladly give you an estimate on re-roofing with EDGWOODS. You will find the cost less than any substitute.

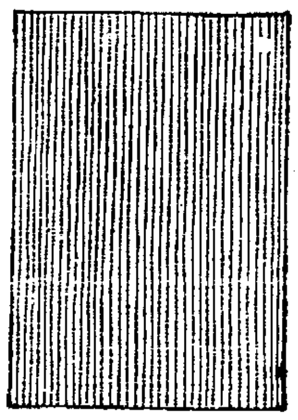
YOUR roof and your foundation are the two first essentials in the construction of your home. Nature created in British Columbia Red Cedar a roofing material that is immune to decay. From these centuries old trees the Consolidated Shingle Manufacturers have fashioned a superior shingle ... the best man can make. To enable you to identify this shingle they have trademarked it EDGWOOD

Note the Difference in the Grain of the Wood

EDGWOOD RED CEDAR SHINGLE

This is a 300% perfect shingle ... all heart ... all clear ... all edgegrain. Note the straight parallel grain of the wood. Sawn edgegrain they positively will not warp, cup or curl. They lie tight and flat to the sheathing for fifty years and more.



FLAT GRAIN RED CEDAR SHINGLE

This shingle is sawn flat-grain. Note the irregular grain of the wood. This causes warping, cupping and curling. The flat-grain shingles are NOT EDGWOODS and should be used ONLY on temporary structures ... NEVER on roofs of residences.

Durability: Endowed by nature with a time-resisting preservative, EDGWOOD Shingles are immune to decay. They will last fifty years and more if laid with zinc-clad or other rust-proof nails.

Appearance: The overlapping butts of EDGWOODS create luminous high lights, deep shadows and soft pencilled lines. No other building materials absorbs and holds color so well.

Safety: Sawn edgegrain ... positive assurance against warping ... EDGWOODS lie tight and flat to the sheathing ... giving maximum resistance to brands or sparks. Fire tests by the State Firemen's Convention of Iowa, proved conclusively, that EDGWOOD Red Cedar Shingles offer greater resistance than many so called fire-proof roofings. And, it is worthy of note, that only .0527% of residential fires originate on roofs.

Insulation: Each square inch of Red Cedar possesses 6,000 to 10,000 minute air-cells. This, with three overlapping butts, create in EDGWOOD Shingles a sidewall or roof that possesses 10 to 47% greater insulating qualities than any other standard exterior building material. The statistics of the Bureau of Industrial Research reveals that EDGWOOD Red Cedar Shingles on sidewalls and roofs will save the average home-owner from $2,427.60 to as much as $4,907.60 in fuel expenditures over a period of thirty years. It is significant, that the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Chicago Fire Department, says: "Most of the sub-zero fires are caused by the efforts to heat homes comfortably by forcing the heating plants or stoves beyond the point of safety." This is the result of using improper insulating building materials.

Economy: The cost of constructing an EDGWOOD roof is but $15 to $20 more than the cheapest composition roofing, or a flat-grain shingle, while the durability is from two to five times greater. Compared with the better grade asbestos, slate or tile, the cost of EDGWOODS is less than half and the EDGWOOD Roof will last fifty years and more. The savings on sidewalls is 10% and upward over any other material.

About the Folks

Louis Rosenzweig, furrier and tailor of 192 Broadway, is in New York city purchasing fall and winter material.

Antonio Muccio sails for his home country, Italy, Saturday, October 6, on the S. S. Conte [illegible]. He expects to return in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and sister, Mrs. Ada [illegible] of Saugerties, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krom of [illegible] street.

Mrs. Clarence E. [illegible] of [illegible] Elmendorf street underwent an operation today at the City of Kingston Hospital for gall stones. The operation was performed by Dr. Frederick Snyder.

Mrs. John Spader of 421 Wilbur avenue is satisfactorily recovering from an operation performed at the City of Kingston Hospital by Dr. F. Snyder. Mrs. Spader was formerly Miss Madeline Clearwater.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 2 (AP).—Extreme [illegible] characterized the trading in today's stock market, which experienced frequent shifts of speculative sentiment. Prices headed upward at the opening but ran into a heavy volume of selling around midday when banks called $25,000,000 in loans and sent the call rate from [illegible] to 8 per cent. A partial recovery set in during the early afternoon but the line of least resistance appeared to be downward.

Much of the mid-day selling is believed to have been inspired by commission house advices, suggesting the possibility of adverse market developments this week, particular stress being laid on the criticism voiced at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association in Philadelphia of the huge volume of credit tied up on securities collateral.

Although the high call money rates are believed to be temporary, Wall street apparently is becoming disturbed over the Brokers' Loan situation, the monthly report of Stock Exchange members loans is expected to set a new high record, as in the Federal Reserve report on Thursday.

There were a few stocks which showed independent strength. Lambert ran up 6 points to a new peak at 132 7/8 and Grasselli Chemical moved up 4 to a new top at 75 7/8. The Can Shares, Murray Corporation and Chrysler also received strong buying support but encountered stiff selling resistance around their old highs.

Weakness of several of the high grade investment rails had a disturbing effect on speculative sentiment. Pittsburgh and West Virginia dropped 4 points and Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line and Rock Island sold down 2 points or more.

Wright Aero dropped from an early high of 169½ to 160 and General Motors from 217 to 212⅞. Adams Express broke 9½ points below last night's closing. Atlantic Refining and Mathieson Alkali dropped about 5 each while Allis Chalmers, Johns Manville, Curtiss, A. M. Byers and Union Carbide dropped 4 points or more.

Society Notes

On Thursday evening, September 27, a very delightful surprise party was tendered Mrs. Ira Auchmoody at her home on Catskill avenue in honor of her birthday. Games and singing were enjoyed by all. Music was furnished by Blanche Auchmoody and Cecil Haines. At a late hour refreshments were served after which the guests departed wishing Mrs. Auchmoody many more happy birthdays. Those present were Agnes Keyser, Agnes Stopski, Magdalena Winter, Anna Houghtaling, William Carter, William Davis, Harold Fitzgerald, Harry Jansen, George and Norwood Houghtaling, Mrs. M. L. Freer, Mrs. George Houghtaling, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Auchmoody and children, Blanche, Evelyn, Lauren; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Houghtaling and children, George and Dorothy.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover W. Hahn of this city announce the engagement of their daughter, Eloise Marion, to Elliott C. Clarke of Oxford, Mass.

Groschen-Sutton.

Miss Pauline C. Sutton of 92 Clinton avenue, this city, and Alfred Groschen, member of the New York State Troopers, were united in marriage by the Rev. A. H. Truby, Presbyterian minister, in New York city on June 3.

Robinson-Osborne.

Walter Robinson of Kingston and Miss Pearl L. Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Osborne of John street, Saugerties, were united in marriage at St. Mary's Church rectory in Saugerties on Sunday afternoon, September 30, by the Rev. Martin P. O'Gara. They were attended by Miss Margaret Devery of Saugerties and Thomas Mitchell of Kingston. After a wedding dinner, served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left for a short wedding trip through the New England states.

Sorosis.

Sorosis held its first fall meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Graham, on Janet street. This year this club is making a study of Current Events and the afternoon was devoted to a round table consideration of the Presidential Candidates and Platforms. Mrs. Kemble and Mrs. Lasher gave interesting reports of the District Federation meeting held in the spring at Albany after the regular club meetings. Sorosis accepted the invitation of the Twentieth Century Club to attend a lecture on Forestry at the lecture room of the Fair Street Reformed Church next Monday afternoon, so their own next regular meeting on October 15, will be with Mrs. Kemble.

A Birthday Party.

A party in honor of Miss Ruth Farber's birthday was held at her home, 32 East Union street, Sunday evening, and the event was enjoyed by a number of her friends. Kopple Speigel and Miss Sally Vogel, assisted by several others, furnished entertainment that pleased all present. Miss Farber received many well wishes from her friends, that her future birthdays be as happy as the one celebrated Sunday. The guests departed for their homes at an early hour. Among those present were: Gladys Weisman, Gert Jacobson, Sally Vogel, Ethel Rogers, Dorothy Parnett, Anna Lurie, Bertha Orkoff and Lillian Handler; Sam Baranowitz, Ben Rothenberg, Ben Orkoff, Meyer Alcon, Koppel Speigel, Victor Alcon, Joe Basch and Lou Kline.

The funeral of Joseph Krajewski, who died in this city Monday morning, will be held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antony Krajewski, 66 Third avenue, Thursday at 9 a. m., thence to Immaculate Conception Church, Delaware avenue, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul at 9:30 o'clock. Interment in Mt. Calvary Cemetery. Besides his parents the deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Humbert of Buffalo and Mrs. Anthony Esponito of Albany; three brothers, John, Frank and Philip, all of this city. The Holy Name Society of Immaculate Conception Church, of which he was a member, will meet at his late home Wednesday at 8 p. m. to recite the rosary for the repose of his soul.

Anna Flannigan, wife of William Van Bramer, died Monday evening at the Benedictine Hospital after a brief illness. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John E. Troy; one son, Vincent Van Bramer of this city; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Weir of Helena, Montana, and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien of Butte, Montana. Funeral services will be held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Troy, 184 North Manor avenue, on Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock and thence to St. Mary's Church where at 10 o'clock a solemn Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. Mrs. Van Bramer was for many years an active member of the Catholic Daughters of America, the L. C. B. A., the Sacred Heart Society, the A. O. H., and the Rosary Society whose members will meet at the Troy residence Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Van Bramer was a woman of genial personality who not only made friends easily but had the happy faculty of retaining the friends she made. While she had been ill for several months, hopes for her ultimate recovery had been held.

Krumville Church Services.

The Rev. Thomas S. Braithwaite will occupy the pulpit in the Krumville Reformed Church Sunday, after completing three weeks' preaching in the Shokan and Mt. Tremper churches. "The Foundation of Faith" will be the subject at the Sunday services. They will start at 11 a. m.

Orchestra Re-engaged.

The Pennsylvania orchestra, which made a big hit at Lasher's Hall, Saugerties, Monday night, was booked to play for another dance next Monday night at Saugerties.

Hawaiian transliterations of English names include "Kimo" for James and "Kale" for Charles.

It is placed . . . not installed

You don't have to install a General Electric Refrigerator—you just have it placed wherever you want it and plugged into any convenience outlet. It requires no more "installation" than an electric iron!

These roomy, easy-to-keep-clean refrigerators are set on sturdy legs—with generous broom-room underneath. And the constant mild current of air which rises from the top-coils prevents dust from settling.

11 Thoroughbreds Burned to Death

In Fire Which Destroyed the Racing Stable Owned by John D. Hertz—Another Gesture in the "Taxi War", Police Declared.

Chicago, Oct. 2 (P)—The John D. Hertz racing stable near Cary, Ill., in which were quartered Reigh Count, 1928 Kentucky derby winner, and 14 other thoroughbreds, was destroyed last night by fire of mysterious, possibly incendiary, origin.

Eleven thoroughbreds valued at more than $200,000 were burned to death. Reigh Count, which is generally regarded as the premier three year old of the American turf, was brought unscathed from the burning barn by a quick thinking stable boy, Jimmy Allen. Anita Peabody, another star of the Hertz string and known as the two year old champion of 1927, also was saved.

Among the animals lost were Leona Ett, named for Leona Hertz and which was being groomed for the 1929 Kentucky derby; Sandal Fan, Insula, Sandal Bar, St. Lucia and Fillies by Black Servant, Kohnkona, Sir Galahad and Whiskbroom.

John D. Hertz, owner of the model stables, is chairman of the board of directors of the Yellow Cab Company. Two large garages of the cab company were bombed Sunday night. The fire at the Hertz farm following within less than 24 hours of the two bombings, was seen by Chicago police as another violent gesture in the "taxi war" which flared a week ago when a taxicab driver was shot dead.

Indications of Incendiarism.

Cary officers found several indications of incendiarism. Fire broke out simultaneously at opposite ends of the long brick barn, they said. There were indications that oil had been used to give the flames quick headway. A gate some distance from the stable was found to have been broken down.

After the garage bombings Sunday night special precautions were taken to guard the valuable thoroughbreds at the Cary farm. Extra watchmen were employed and a close guard was arranged to be kept in the vicinity of the stable itself.

Hertz and his farm superintendent, Arthur Naylor, both said they had no suspicions as to the origin of the fire, and both were reluctant to see any connection between it and the trouble between employes of Hertz's Yellow Cab Company and drivers of the other [illegible]. It was pointed out by [illegible] police, however, that the stable was of most modern construction and [illegible] fireproof.

[illegible] were the tinder that gave the flames a start which resisted all [illegible] of firemen. Arthur Naylor, [illegible] daughter of the [illegible] than was [illegible] sides.

Anita Peabody was [illegible] other building, but was [illegible] from her stall as [illegible] the main stable endangered other structures at the farm.

Sheriff Sanford after an investigation [illegible] Hertz in Chicago:

"This undoubtedly is a plot growing out of the trouble between the taxicab men, manifest by the bombings Sunday. I strongly urge you not to venture out tonight on those lonely country roads. Great personal harm may be intended for you. Don't come out until daylight, and then with a police escort."

The sheriff assigned 11 deputies to guard the place, augmenting the private guard previously employed by Hertz.

Paradise for Aristocratic Racers.

Leona Farm, a 720-acre tract about 30 miles from Chicago, was designed by Mrs. John D. Hertz as a paradise for the aristocracy of race horses. Measured food, measured exercise, measured steam heat in winter, and a large group of trainers and helpers were a few of the precautions taken to guard the thoroughbreds. There were even special skylights through which the sun's rays were filtered into the animals' stalls.

The stable, completed only a month ago, was built in furtherance of Mrs. Hertz's idea that it is not necessary that fine race horses be quartered in the south during the winter.

TWO MORE LEGIONNAIRES WHO WILL GO TO TEXAS.

The name of Sam N. Mann, Legionnaire and alderman, was omitted from the published list of the delegation leaving here Thursday afternoon for San Antonio, Texas. Sam has his bag all packed and already has an invitation to dinner from a friend of his who resides in San Antonio.

Another Legionnaire whose name was omitted was that of William N. Schwab, employed at the central post office. Bill, whom everyone knows as one of the heavy hitters of the Colonials in their prime baseball days, has taken the last available berth on the two private cars which the party will occupy.

Mark Hanna's Trail In Politics Taken Up By Granddaughter

When Mark Hanna stumped the country for McKinley in 1896, his daughter, Ruth, went along to learn something about politics. This year his daughter, now Ruth Hanna McCormick (left), stumping southern Illinois as Republican nominee for congress, was accompanied by her own daughter, 15-year-old Katrina (right), who wants to learn politics the same way her mother did.

Will Not Drink Toasts in Wine

Toronto, Oct. 2 (AP).—Members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts will be unable to drink toasts to the king and the president in port wine tonight.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, originally had decided to give permission for the use of wine at a banquet to be tendered the visitors by local officials. Later however, after a conference between Sir Henry and members of the Provincial Government, the permission was withdrawn.

G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, explained the withdrawal in the following statement:

"Application was made to the Commission for a permit to use enough port wine to drink the health of the King and the President of the United States at a banquet to be given to the members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts. The control thought that limited in that way it could be thoroughly granted, but, subsequently, discussing the matter with the government, it was felt that it would be unwise to grant such a permit and it is being withdrawn.

"No such permits have ever been granted to any such function in the province, and it is felt that these men, coming from Massachusetts, would not expect that a precedent would be created by giving them any special consideration. When it was pointed out that at all the banquets here, even at that tendered to the Prince of Wales, we were able to drink the toast only in ginger ale, it was felt that our guests here would readily appreciate the situation and would not want to do otherwise."

Why Continue to Patch Up Your Poor Weak Gassy Stomach

Why not look the facts in the face!

Relievers relieve for a few hours—but that's all they do—or can do.

Continually paying out good money for just a few hours' relief isn't exactly common sense.

Why not get hold of a good prescription—one that not only stops gas, acidity, sourness and indigestion agony in a few minutes, but will also build up your distressed and run down stomach in two or three weeks and put it in such a sound, healthy condition that you'll be able to digest the heartiest meal without the least discomfort?

Why not ask McBride's Drug Store or any druggist anywhere for QUELS—it is the one good remedy that every man or woman who suffers from stubborn, suffocating indigestion needs and ought to have.

If you suffer from obstinate indigestion or acid dyspepsia, why not give QUELS the chance they deserve?—They are not expensive—just a few cents a box.

Start today with this supremely efficient prescription—chew and swallow two QUELS after each meal—as palatable as candy.

And here's something more—if after chewing one box of QUELS you don't say they did more to help your disordered stomach than anything you ever tried—get your money back. Guaranteed by McCoy's Laboratories, 62 West 14th St., New York, distributors of McCoy's Tablets, and McCoy's Cod Liver Oil.

Smith Picks at G. O. P. Platform

Challenges Statements in Platform Adopted at Syracuse and Pleads for Voters to Return Democrats to Power at Albany.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP).—With a two-fisted attack on the New York state Republican platform and an earnest plea to the voters who have elected him their chief executive four times to return the Democrats to power at Albany in vindication of their progressive policies, Governor Smith has sounded the keynote of a state-wide campaign that may, in the final analysis, have an important bearing in his fight for the presidency.

Addressing the delegates to the Democratic state convention here last night, the Democratic presidential nominee challenged statement after statement in the opposition platform adopted last week at Syracuse, attacked the Republican leaders of the state for alleged obstruction of his policies and declared "not a single constructive achievement that took place in the government of this state in the last six years had Republican support until they were beaten down to the earth."

He said the attitude of the Republicans of the Empire State was one of defiance, that they unjustly claimed credit for reforms sponsored and fought for by Democrats against a hostile legislature, and that the record of progress could be continued only by the election of the candidates to come out of the convention here.

Governor Smith stopped over here for the convention on his way home from his western campaign. He planned to be in Albany by nightfall and to rest for the remainder of the week. The program for his second stumping tour is in a tentative stage.

With party responsibility as his text, on which he based his Helena, Mont., speech, the nominee picked at the Republican platform item by item, reviewed what he said were the "facts", as to the legislative accomplishments of this administration and declared "nothing would be more regretful than to let the record I have laid out before you tonight get the approval of the people of the biggest state in the union."
